SHENANDOAH MAY HUNT FOR CAPT. AMUNDSEN

SENTIMENT

FOR DISPATCH OF DIRIGIBLE

BELIEVED COOLIDGE FAVORS EXTENDING ALL POSSIBLE RELIEF

SECRETARY OF NAVY CONSIDERING DISPATCH OF THE AIRSHIP

(By United Press)
Washington, May 26.—Sentiment for the ultimate dispatch of the United States naval dirigible Shenandoah or the Los Angeles to the Arctic to search for the Amundsen expedition grew swiftly in official centers here today.

Developments included:
A statement by the White House spokesman that President Coolidge favored the use of all practicable and possible means of carrying relief to the missing exploration party if it finally appears necessary.

A declaration by Secretary of the Navy Wilbur that while no official consideration was being given yet to plans for such use of the giant airship, he personally was giving much thought to the project.

The president was reported by the White House spokesman as entirely approving the use of each or both of the great airships in the venture if expert opinion of navy aeronauts regard the project as feasible. The president, however, was said to believe that it was not yet certain that dispatch of a rescue crew party is needed, and until the need is manifest, plans should be held in abeyance.

BELIEVES AMUNDSEN'S
PLANES CRASHED DOWN

Liverpool, May 26.—Gritti Anderson, Vancouver, who is now setting out a polar dirigible expedition, theorized today that both Amundsen's airplanes had crashed and proposed to fly his dirigible in search of the Amundsen group.

"I fear that one airplane had difficulty and was compelled to land, and that the second in going to the rescue crashed into the first. If there is no news soon, we will try to fly our dirigible in search of Amundsen," he said.

OSLO, NORWAY.
FEARS MISFORTUNE

Oslo, Norway, May 26.—That some misfortune had befallen Captain Amundsen and other vikings was the fear here today as no news of the polar fliers arrived up to early afternoon.

This potential misfortune did not necessarily mean the explorers had met death, but with zero weather reported from Spitzbergen and a storm brewing in the Arctic circle, there was genuine fear that perhaps the expedition trying to conquer the North Pole from the air had been forced down and then was unable to get into the air again. In this case it meant that they would have to set out on skis to the nearest point in Greenland, several hundred miles from the Pole. Such an adventure would be fraught with tremendous dangers. The expedition supplies suffice for a month and they can be augmented by killing game, but at that such a trek is a gamble.

However, the general populace began to have a sinking pessimism about the fate of the men. Learned scientists and polar explorers still continued predicting that Amundsen and his mates would find a way back to the base at Kings Bay. They argued that on his South Pole venture he had scoured about making observations lengthily, and that he might again be taking his own time verifying his position and noting facts of scientific importance.

These optimists, however, did not serve to dispel the growing alarm about the expedition. Talk of scouting parties to rescue Amundsen met with quiet skepticism.

$1,000 For a Baby

Paris, May 26.—Parents in Angers, a French town, who already possess two children will be given about $1,000 by the city if a third child is born to them within the next year.

Frost Damage Caused the Farmers Heavy Losses

BROKERAGE HOUSE FAILS; 500 LOSE MONEY IN SAME

(By United Press)
Chicago, May 26.—Approximately 500 persons in Illinois and Indiana were caught in the crash of the Jack H. Davis & Company brokerage house here late yesterday. The loss to investors will total at least $250,000, the federal agents declared.

Arthur Gerson, identified with the company, is in custody.

CLAIM NO INJURY FOR MEMORY LAPSE

WITNESSES STATE MINUTE EXAMINATION MADE OF LOPEZ-FRAZIER

GOVERNMENT WITNESS TESTIFIES IN FEDERAL DISTRICT COURT

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, May 26.—No injuries which would cause memory lapses have been revealed in the minute examination of Arthur Lopez-Frazier, one government witness testified in federal district court today.

Government officials are attempting to offset the testimony introduced by Lopez-Frazier to support his contention that he is Arthur Frazier, an Indian war veteran and entitled to service compensation. It is the contention of the defense that Frazier was killed in action in France, that the plaintiff is Arthur Lopez, a Mexican imposter.

The testimony of Dr. Arthur Hamilton, University of Minnesota, who made the examination is considered particularly damaging to the plaintiff. Lopez-Frazier's most consistent answer under cross examination was "I don't remember."

Dr. Hamilton testified that the examination proved the plaintiff was a tuberculosis victim and was partly paralyzed, but no injuries which would impair his mental condition were discovered.

LILLIAN GISH SAYS H. L. MENCKEN IS HER MATRIMONY PILOT

Hollywood, Calif., May 26.—Lillian Gish will entrust her matrimonial future to H. L. Mencken, the literary cynic, and not to George Jean Nathan, New York dramatic critic to whom she was variously reported married or engaged.

The fragile film star returned to Hollywood today to star in a new series of pictures. She preferred to discuss business to matrimony.

"Marry Mr. Nathan? Preposterous," exclaimed the willowy star. "I shall be here for two years and I will be busy making pictures. I am going to play Marguerite in Faust."

"No, I do not intend to marry Mr. Nathan. He is a very fine man and I admire his poetry very much, but as to my reported marriage or engagement I suggest you get into touch with Mr. H. L. Mencken."

Miss Gish refused to intimate to what extent Mencken is to supervise her matrimonial future.

EARTHQUAKE IN PANAMA DISTRICT

(By United Press)
New Orleans, May 26.—An intense earthquake shock lasting 37 minutes, probably occurring in the vicinity of Panama, was recorded at the University of Loyola here early today.

N. D. TOWN STARTS DAYLIGHT SAVING

(By United Press)
Selsridge, N. D., May 26.—Daylight saving went into effect here today. Farmers of the district supported the plan which will continue until September 15.

PRESBYTERIANS SIDESTEP THE FOSDICK CASE

ULTRA-FUNDAMENTALISTS DEFEATED OVERWHELMINGLY

RESOLUTION ADOPTED LOOKS TO UNION OF PRESBYTERIANS AND CONGREGATIONALS

(By United Press)
Columbus, May 26.—The National assembly of the Presbyterian church sidestepped the troublesome Fosdick case today. Definite action was postponed pending the result of judicial cases against the New York Presbyterian charged with licensing modernist ministers.

The ultra-fundamentalists were defeated overwhelmingly at the closing hours of yesterday's business session in the adoption of a resolution looking toward ultimate union of the Presbyterian and the Congregational denominations.

Extreme fundamentalists fought the proposal to the last bit, but less decisively when it came to a vote. The resolution puts the Presbytery on record as sanctioning the Congregational creed by approving that individual Presbyterian and synagogue may enter into "trial unions."

NATIONAL DEFENSE TEST ON JULY 4TH

ACTING SECRETARY OF WAR DAVIS SO INFORMS PRES. COOLIDGE

(By United Press)
Washington, May 26.—Acting Secretary of War Davis informed President Coolidge that the war department would hold its National Defense Test on July 4th as suggested by the president.

Orders were sent out to the army today to prepare for the test on that date.

EUROPEAN SECURITY PACT FINDS NO FAVOR WITH COOLIDGE

(By United Press)
Washington, May 26.—President Coolidge does not approve the reported suggestion of the French and German governments that the United States participate in the proposed European security pact. The president told callers today he had no direct information of the proposal, but felt the security pact entirely a European question to be settled by the nations concerned.

This government is always willing to help, however, in such cases as will not involve it in European political situations, the White House spokesman explained.

CANADIAN PILGRIMS GAIN AUDIENCE WITH THE POPE

(By United Press)
Rome, May 26.—Two hundred Canadian pilgrims, headed by Archbishops Matton and Cleary of Regina and Edmonton, were granted an audience by the Pope today.

In welcoming the pilgrims, the Pope declared his gratitude at meeting them, emphasizing the loyalty of the Canadians to the church and blessing the pilgrims and all Canada.

WELL DRILLER INJURED IN AN EXPLOSION MAY DIE

(By United Press)
Blue Earth, Minn., May 26.—Fred Willette, 58, a well driller who was seriously injured here yesterday afternoon probably will die, physicians said. Willette was caught by a premature dynamite explosion. He is the father of 14 children.

HARRY K. THAW BACK AMONG THE LIGHTS OF BROADWAY

(By United Press)
New York, May 26.—Harry K. Thaw is back among the bright light of Broadway again.

Ending what had virtually been 19 years of exile from the White Way since the fatal evening when he killed Stanford White, Thaw appeared at a cabaret in Broadway. A pretty dancer graced his table. She was Fawn Gray.

Thaw was in good humor as of old when he was known as a well-to-do young man about town, but time and prison confinement had left their marks. He was recognized by the oldest Broadway patrons and to the younger merry-makers he was at first a simple gray-haired man with wrinkles in his face.

YOUNG LEOPOLD IS OPERATED ON IN PENITENTIARY

SURGEONS OPERATE ON MILLIONAIRE'S SON FOR APPENDICITIS

LEOPOLD'S COMPANION IN PRISON IS SUFFERING FROM MEASLES

(By United Press)
Joliet, Ill., May 26.—Nathan Leopold, Jr., son of a millionaire, who killed Bobby Franks, a convict in the Illinois penitentiary, underwent a successful operation for appendicitis at the prison here. Physicians announced his condition entirely satisfactory. Leopold who was sentenced to spend the rest of his life in the penitentiary after pleading guilty to the Franks' murder, was operated on by prison physicians, his wealthy father declining to call in an outside specialist.

Dick Loeb, Leopold's companion in the crime, is also in the prison hospital suffering a mild attack of the measles. Bobby Franks was killed just one year and five days ago.

DISCUSS POISON GAS CLAUSE

ARMS MILITARY COMMISSION TURNS DOWN AMERICAN PROPOSAL

(By United Press)
Geneva, May 26.—The arms conference military commission today declined to accept the American proposal for prohibition on exportation of poison gas. The commissioners argued such exclusion would probably later be interpreted as recognizing gas as a legal weapon in warfare. The delegates of Japan, Italy and England were the principal opponents of the amendment. It was believed the commission will recommend that a special commission be called to treat the whole question of gas and germs in warfare.

TWO SAILORS LOST, WASHED OVERBOARD

FIRST MATE AND WHEELSMAN LOST OFF DULUTH VESSEL

(By United Press)
Duluth, May 26.—The owners of the steamer, Penticost Mitchell today announced the names of the two sailors who were washed overboard and drowned in the northeast gale which swept Lake Superior Sunday.

They are Joseph Ives, Chicago, first mate, and Ole Malone, Port Huron, wheelsman.

$159,000 LOOT IN JEWELS IS BANDIT BOOTY

ROBBERY LARGEST AND MOST DARING IN HISTORY OF CHICAGO

ROB JEWELRY STORE THEN UNDER COVER OF VOLLEY OF SHOTS, DISAPPEAR IN CROWD

(By United Press)
Chicago, May 26.—Under a volley of shots fired into a dense crowd in the downtown district, three bandits today escaped with $150,000 worth of diamonds and other jewelry which they took from Adolph Gastman's jewelry store. The robbery was the largest and one of the most daring in recent police history.

Gastman's store had not yet opened for business when the bandits appeared, knocked at the door, threatened one of the employees who answered, forced their way in and looted the safes which had just been unlocked preparatory to filling the show cases.

Clubbing the three employees who were on the job with a revolver butt, the bandits bound their victims and then looted the huge safes and were swallowed up in the crowded thoroughfare with thousands who were going to work.

NEW VERTICAL QUAKE IN JAPAN

REMAINS OF BURNED HOUSES AND TEMPORARY SHACKS FALL DOWN

(By United Press)
London, May 26.—A Tokyo dispatch to the Evening News today reported a new vertical earthquake had visited the western Japanese district afflicted by a serious quake and fire last Saturday. Remains of burned houses and temporary shacks were reported to have fallen, though no deaths were noted.

GOV. CHRISTIANSON TAKES TIME TO MAKE APPOINTMENTS

(By United Press)
St. Paul, May 26.—Governor Theodore Christianson has not yet made any appointment under the state government reorganization bill.

There is no indication at the present time as to when the governor will make appointments to the departments of finance and administration.

This morning Governor Christianson was in conference with Lieutenant Governor Nolan and J. A. O. Preus, former governor, but no announcement was made of the purpose of the meeting.

FIND MONEY AND JEWELS IN AN OLD CEDAR CHEST

Bemidji, May 26.—Several thousand dollars in currency and other valuables and an old revolver were uncovered by workmen who were cutting timber on Pine Island, northeast of here, according to a story by J. M. Price, who had charge of the work. The valuables were in a large cedar chest. It is not known how or where it came from.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS IN ANNUAL SESSION

Owatonna, Minn., May 26.—Scores of members of the Knights of Columbus, from all sections of the state, are in conference here today in the annual convention of the order. The business meeting opened this morning, adjourned at noon for the convention banquet at the Hotel Owatonna.

Hon. T. D. O'Brien, former justice of the state supreme court, will be one of the principal speakers at the session this afternoon.

AFTER 23 YEARS SERVICE COLLEGE PROFESSOR RESIGNS

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, May 26.—Dr. Richard Burton announced today his resignation from the faculty of the Minnesota University effective at the close of the current school semester. He has been connected with the University for 23 years.

PROBE ATTEMPTS TO TAMPER WITH SHEPHERD JURY

JURORS SUMMONED TODAY BY STATE'S ATTORNEY CROWE

SHEPHERD'S ATTORNEYS ISSUE STATEMENT DENOUNCING MOVEMENT

(By United Press)
Chicago, May 26.—Jurors who have seen service in cases tried by attorneys in the Shepherd germ murder trial were summoned today by State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe in an effort to throw further light on alleged efforts to tamper with the Shepherd jury.

Attorneys William Scott Stewart and W. W. O'Brien, defending William Shepherd against charges that he killed his ward, Billy McClintock, issued a statement charging Crowe with attempting to intimidate the jurors in the present case. Crowe said he ordered the general examination because he wanted to look into the court records of the defense attorneys. Crowe is still holding James Callan charged with attempting to approach Shepherd jurors in behalf of the defense. Callan said he worked for Stewart and O'Brien.

So far the police of Philadelphia have failed to locate Robert White, missing prosecution witness. Several letters signed by White and postmarked Philadelphia have been received at Crowe's office. The writer said he would return to testify for the state when the jury is completed.

Jury selection is dragging along. Four jurors are in the box, while two others have been tentatively selected by the state.

Aunt Maria Studebaker Passed Away in Indiana

(By United Press)
South Bend, Ind., May 26.—The house of Studebaker has passed—it flickered out yesterday when death took Miss Marie Studebaker, "Aunt Maria," as she was known to a legion of friends, the last of the Studebaker line. The Studebakers made history in carriage building and later in the automobile industry.

Aunt Maria became ill on April 29. It had been her ambition to celebrate her 87th birthday, but death cheated her that last wish by hours. Today is the anniversary of her birth.

Miss Studebaker died in the family homestead on West LaSalle avenue the site upon which the family settled 74 years ago when they decided on their pilgrimage into the west from Ohio.

500 DAIRY FARMERS TO VISIT OWATONNA

(By United Press)
Owatonna, Minn., May 26.—More than 500 dairy farmers of southern Minnesota are expected here today for a final tour of the state and federal statistical routes. Economical maintenance of farm cost and profit records is the object of the conclave, according to Professor George A. Pond of the department of agronomy and farm management, University Farm St. Paul.

Delegations of farmers from several sections of the state are being accompanied by the county farm bureau agents, who will demonstrate the modernized bookkeeping methods on the various farms.

COLD SNAP VERY SEVERE IN MIDDLEWEST

BOTH FRUITS AND GRAINS ARE HEAVILY HIT BY THE FROST

WHEAT AND CORN DAMAGE IS PLACED AT 25 TO 35 PER CENT

(By United Press)
Chicago, May 26.—Farmers throughout the middlewest have lost billions of dollars through frost damage to growing crops during the unprecedented cold snap of the last three days, crop experts estimated today. Both fruit and grains were heavily hit by the frost, reports from all sections show. Conservative estimates of the wheat and corn damage were placed at 25 to 35 per cent. Fruits were even more seriously injured.

In several sections of the large corn belt, entire re-planting of the crop will be necessary, it was reported to brokers. It will bring a late maturity with danger of autumn frosts.

Killing frosts were reported in wide sections of Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Oklahoma, Ohio, Minnesota and the Dakotas.

Kentucky also suffered from frost damage, but the losses will be less acute in that state.

In response to increasing reports of crop damage, grain prices advanced on the Chicago board of trade and other grain exchanges. Extremely light yields in both wheat and corn are now anticipated.

The climax of the cold snap has been passed, the weather bureau here reported today. Slightly warmer weather is expected. Reports of light frost during the night were received from several points.

CITIZENSHIP IS DENIED JAP IN SERVICE OF U. S.

Washington, May 26.—A native-born Japanese is not eligible to become an American citizen because he served in the military forces of the United States, the supreme court ruled today.

A Massachusetts federal court decision held that one Toy Oto was not eligible for naturalization, although he had served in the coast guard from 1913 to 1917 should be affirmed.

The United States court of appeals asked for the ruling to decide the appeal.

The case marked a unique conflict of lawyers. Congress in 1918 passed a law providing that "any person of foreign birth, who served in the military or naval forces of the United States during the present war," may acquire naturalization under the rulings of 1906 citizenship law for aliens. The 1906 law and previous naturalization laws permitted the extension of citizenship only to persons of the white and black races. Toy Oto was naturalized on his application in 1921, but the court subsequently revoked his first naturalization papers. Chief Justice Taft dissented. Justice Pitney Butler read the decision.

JURORS SUMMONED TODAY BY STATE'S ATTORNEY CROWE

SHEPHERD'S ATTORNEYS ISSUE STATEMENT DENOUNCING MOVEMENT

(By United Press)
Chicago, May 26.—Jurors who have seen service in cases tried by attorneys in the Shepherd germ murder trial were summoned today by State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe in an effort to throw further light on alleged efforts to tamper with the Shepherd jury.

Attorneys William Scott Stewart and W. W. O'Brien, defending William Shepherd against charges that he killed his ward, Billy McClintock, issued a statement charging Crowe with attempting to intimidate the jurors in the present case. Crowe said he ordered the general examination because he wanted to look into the court records of the defense attorneys. Crowe is still holding James Callan charged with attempting to approach Shepherd jurors in behalf of the defense. Callan said he worked for Stewart and O'Brien.

So far the police of Philadelphia have failed to locate Robert White, missing prosecution witness. Several letters signed by White and postmarked Philadelphia have been received at Crowe's office. The writer said he would return to testify for the state when the jury is completed.

Jury selection is dragging along. Four jurors are in the box, while two others have been tentatively selected by the state.

Aunt Maria Studebaker Passed Away in Indiana

(By United Press)
South Bend, Ind., May 26.—The house of Studebaker has passed—it flickered out yesterday when death took Miss Marie Studebaker, "Aunt Maria," as she was known to a legion of friends, the last of the Studebaker line. The Studebakers made history in carriage building and later in the automobile industry.

Aunt Maria became ill on April 29. It had been her ambition to celebrate her 87th birthday, but death cheated her that last wish by hours. Today is the anniversary of her birth.

Miss Studebaker died in the family homestead on West LaSalle avenue, the site upon which the family settled 74 years ago when they decided on their pilgrimage into the west from Ohio.

500 DAIRY FARMERS TO VISIT OWATONNA

(By United Press)
Owatonna, Minn., May 26.—More than 500 dairy farmers of southern Minnesota are expected here today for a final tour of the state and federal statistical routes. Economical maintenance of farm cost and profit records is the object of the conclave, according to Professor George A. Pond of the department of agronomy and farm management, University Farm, St. Paul.

Delegations of farmers from several sections of the state are being accompanied by the county farm bureau agents, who will demonstrate the modernized bookkeeping methods on the various farms.

COLD SNAP VERY SEVERE IN MIDDLEWEST

BOTH FRUITS AND GRAINS ARE HEAVILY HIT BY THE FROST

WHEAT AND CORN DAMAGE IS PLACED AT 25 TO 35 PER CENT

(By United Press)
Chicago, May 26.—Farmers throughout the middlewest have lost billions of dollars through frost damage to growing crops during the unprecedented cold snap of the last three days, crop experts estimated today. Both fruit and grains were heavily hit by the frost, reports from all sections show. Conservative estimates of the wheat and corn damage were placed at 25 to 35 per cent. Fruits were even more seriously injured.

In several sections of the large corn belt, entire re-planting of the crop will be necessary, it was reported to brokers. It will bring a late maturity with danger of autumn frosts.

Killing frosts were reported in wide sections of Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Oklahoma, Ohio, Minnesota and the Dakotas.

Kentucky also suffered from frost damage, but the losses will be less acute in that state.

In response to increasing reports of crop damage, grain prices advanced on the Chicago board of trade and other grain exchanges. Extremely light yields in both wheat and corn are now anticipated.

The climax of the cold snap has been passed, the weather bureau here reported today. Slightly warmer weather is expected. Reports of light frost during the night were received from several points.

CITIZENSHIP IS DENIED JAP IN SERVICE OF U. S.

Washington, May 26.—A native born Japanese is not eligible to become an American citizen because he served in the military forces of the United States, the supreme court ruled today.

A Massachusetts federal court decision held that one Toy Oto was not eligible for naturalization, although he had served in the coast guard from 1913 to 1917 should be affirmed.

The United States court of appeals asked for the ruling to decide the appeal.

The case marked a unique conflict of lawyers. Congress in 1918 passed a law providing that "any person of foreign birth, who served in the military or naval forces of the United States during the present war," may acquire naturalization under the rulings of 1906 citizenship law for aliens. The 1906 law and previous naturalization laws permitted the extension of citizenship only to persons of the white and black races. Toy Oto was naturalized on his application in 1921, but the court subsequently revoked his first naturalization papers. Chief Justice Taft dissented, Justice Pitre Butler read the decision.

NEW INDUSTRIES FOR BRAINERD

Brainerd Chamber of Commerce to Hold Regular Meeting Wednesday Evening

REPORT ON BROOM FACTORY

Report Also on Proposed Harvester
and Thresher Manufacturing
Plant

The regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held on Wednesday evening, May 27th, and President F. H. Gruenhagen announces some important business to be transacted.

Chief among the matters to be discussed are two proposed industries for Brainerd. The first is the combined harvester and thresher manufacturing company, now located at Little Falls, but which would consider moving to Brainerd. About 25 local business men visited the Little Falls plant last week, and will be prepared to report on their findings at Wednesday night's meeting.

J. H. Krekelberg will have a report on the matter of the establishment of a broom factory, probably in the old court house building.

The booster committee has carefully outlined its plans for a campaign which it hopes to stage in the near future, and will report on these plans
Wednesday evening.

With the opening of the summer tourist season at hand, and other matters of importance requiring attention, it is necessary that all members make a special effort to be present at the Chamber meeting.

Child Management

Tendencies toward thinking and acting in certain ways, which are called habits, are the outgrowth of training and experience. They are not inherited. We begin to form habits at birth and go on through life, forming them quickly and easily in youth and more slowly and with difficulty as the years advance. The often the act is repeated or the thought is indulged in the more lasting the habit becomes. Since habit formation begins early and is more or less constant throughout life it is of great importance that emphasis be placed upon establishment of desirable habits.

A young child has certain characteristics that make the acquiring of new habits easy. For one thing, he is suggestible; that is, he accepts without reasoning about it anything which comes from a person he looks up to. "My father said so" or "My mother did it" makes a thing absolutely right for a little child. Again, a child naturally tends to imitate the words, actions, and attitudes of the people around him, and this makes it of the greatest importance that older people furnish him the kind of models they want to have copied. Furthermore, a child wants to please those he loves and wants to have them say so. At first it is only father or mother or some one in the immediate family whose good opinion he wants. Then it is the kindergarten or school teacher. Finally, at 9 or 10, the praise or blame of his playmates or of the gang leader concerns him more than anything else.
When this stage is reached parents should not be disheartened and think that their boy is developing into a black sheep. It is a perfectly natural stage which children pass through and which calls only for greater care in the selection of wholesome companions.

This attitude of concern regarding what other people think is a force that parents may use in developing right conduct. Rarely is a child found who does not care for the approval of some one, and training should make a child realize that it is to his advantage to win approbation for desirable acts. Praise for unselfishness, kindness, and general consideration for others tends to perpetuate that type of conduct.

Simplify Your Entertaining With A Decoration Day Picnic

A MEMORIAL DAY is not exactly the time for rejoicing and celebrating in a riotous manner, but it is often the occasion for a gathering together of a family or a group of friends. And in order to fittingly observe the day, it is not necessary that they should sit around with woeful expressions.

A picnic is a happy solution—either a real woods picnic or the simpler kind which takes place in the front or back yard. It may seem more convenient to stay at home, perhaps because of the nearness to trains or perhaps because some of the guests do not appreciate the discomforts of the woods.
In this case, a yard picnic is the better choice.

If the gathering is large, this form of entertainment will relieve the hostess of a tremendous amount of work. She can prepare most of the lunch the day before, and the lunch is by far the most important part of a picnic.

Amusing a crowd out of doors is always comparatively simple, for they will naturally plan their own fun. Just provide a baseball and bat, or some horse shoes and a stake for the men and they will entertain themselves. The woman may even join in either of these games, in which case it would be wise to substitute an indoor baseball for the regular variety.

Relay races are always fun, or obstacle races where the course of smooth running is interfered with by objects which are placed in the path to be jumped or climbed over.

Feeding the crowd, however, is another story. Exercise and fresh air will increase even usually healthy appetites, so that there must be quantities of food and a variety to suit different tastes.

An old fashioned lunch of baked beans, potato salad, boiled ham and tongue, devilled eggs, sliced tomatoes, rolls and pickles with pie and coffee for dessert is always enjoyed.
But if you want to be modern,
you might have:

Pressed Chicken
Buttered new peas
Potatoes au gratin
Tomato Jelly
Hot Rolls
Ice Cream with Strawberries
Fancy Cakes

But whatever you have to eat, serve it picnic fashion as simply as possible. If tables are preferred, have one long table with the serving dishes in the center to be passed along from one person to the next as each helps himself.
Omit all the little refinements of civilization, such as linen and china, and resort to paper napkins and wooden plates which can be burned immediately after eating, thus relieving the hostess of the task of "clearing up."

A few of the recipes are given below. One for a pie which can be made a day in advance, to be put together just before serving, and several for the cookies which must be kept on hand for the children to munch on and for serving with the mid-afternoon lemonade, which is sure to be wanted.

Individual Pies (for 2 pies)

3 cups Flour
1 cup Crisco
2 tps. Salt Water

Sift salt with flour. Work in Crisco. Stir in slowly just enough water to hold the mixture together.
Remove to a floured board. Pat into a firm mass. Take off bits at a time and roll out to fit individual pie tins. Prick the bottoms with a fork to prevent blistering.
Bake in a hot oven 450 F.

Just before serving, fill partially with raspberry jam. Top with a spoonful of whipped cream.

Individual Cake

1/2 cup Crisco
1 1/4 cups Sugar
2 Eggs
2 oz. Chocolate
2 tps. Milk
3 cups pastry Flour
4 tps. Baking Powder
1/2 tsp. Salt
1 tsp. Vanilla or 1 tsp. Cloves or 2 tps. Cinnamon; or 1 tsp. Nutmeg. 1/4 cup Raisins.

Cream Crisco, add sugar gradually and continue creaming. Add eggs, which have been beaten lightly. Sift salt, spices, baking powder and flour together. Add to first mixture. Then add raisins and vanilla. If chocolate cakes are wanted in place of spice cakes, melt the chocolate with milk and add after the beaten eggs. Then add flour. Bake in small greased muffin tins. Ice with white and chocolate icing.

Macaroons
2 tps. Crisco
1/2 cup Sugar
1/2 cup Coconut
1/2 tsp. Baking Powder
1/2 cup Rolled Oats
2 cups Corn Flakes
1/2 tsp. Salt
2 Eggs

Beat eggs well and mix with oatmeal. Let stand while creaming Crisco and sugar together. Combine these two mixtures and add coconut, corn flakes, baking powder and salt. Drop by spoonfuls on greased baking sheet. Bake 15 minutes in a moderate oven—350°.

Nut Wafers or Sliced Nut Cookies

1 cup Brown Sugar
1 cup White Sugar
1 1/2 cups melted Crisco
1 cup Chopped Nuts
3 Eggs well beaten
1 tsp. Soda
1 tsp. Cinnamon or other spices
1/2 tsp. Salt

Mix sugars and Crisco well together. Add eggs slowly, beating thoroughly. Stir in nuts. Then add flour, soda, salt and spices which have been sifted together.
After mixture has been well blended, shape into rolls about 2 1/2 inches in diameter. Place in icebox over night. When ready to bake, slice down as thin as possible.
Bake 375°—10 minutes.

The Greatest Railroad Romance Ever Screened!

ALL the tremendous sweep of a narrative filled to overflowing with the romance, thrills, and dangers of railroad life has been embodied in this fine picture! You will see the crash of giant locomotives, the hurtling through space of an entire train, and the breath-taking fight between two big men alone in the signal tower! You will also see one of the most appealing love stories of the year—in which Virginia Valli reaches new heights of artistic and appealing character portrayal!

Wood Ashes Are Worth Their Weight

It is throwing away money to throw away wood ashes, for it is throwing away fertilizer that can be replaced only at considerable expense.
Wood ashes vary in effective fertiliz-ing material, hardwood ashes being richest and soft wood least rich.
Ashes of vegetable refuse are valuable also, being a good fertilizer, although not of the strength of the hardwood ashes. When you burn leaves or old vegetable vines or flower stems, spread the ashes over the garden.

Wood ashes are chiefly valuable as a fertilizer which furnishes potash, a necessary element in ripening of fruit and in forming roots. It is ordinarily furnished by chemical salts such as sulphate or muriate of potash or by a mineral fertilizer known as kainit. Our chief supply of potash fertilizers came from Germany before the war and there was a potash famine when they were out of commerce and potash fertilizers went sky high in price. Now they are again within reason.

Wood ashes are an old standby and more appreciated now than at any previous time, so much so that they are sold commercially by seed houses.

Wood ashes are now known to be a dual-purpose fertilizer. Where formerly they were used merely for their potash content, now they are known to be an effective means of furnishing lime to the soil and an aid in sweetening the ground and liberating other fertilizing elements.
These ashes contain from 50 to 70 per cent of lime. So when you spread wood ashes on the garden you are both liming the soil and helping to correct any acidity or sourness that may exist and furnishing potash fertilizer as well.

The lime is as essential as other fertilizers to keep the soil up to the requisite growing quality although its application is not needed as frequently as other fertilizers. Without lime the efficiency of fertilizers is greatly lessened. It is needed in the soil to liberate other plant food elements. Save all wood ashes or ashes from bonfires. Spread them on the garden.

COOPERATIVE EGG AND POULTRY PRODUCERS MEETING

The Directors of the Lake Region Cooperative Egg and Poultry Producers Association are making preparations for the annual meeting which will be held in the Armory in Aitkin on June 3rd.

The association has nearly 900 members distributed over the counties of Aitkin, Crow Wing, Cass and Morrison. It has been in operation almost a year and has marketed upwards of 125,000 dozen eggs and 80-000 pounds of poultry, amounting to nearly $50,000.

The principle upon which this association is founded is that eggs should be bought and sold on the basis of quality. All eggs received are inspected and classified into four grades according to size and quality, sold in bi-monthly pools, and the proceeds, less the actual expense of handling, distributed to the farmer members, each being paid according to the quantity and grade of eggs delivered.

The association supplies graded eggs to the local merchants in the district and ships all the surplus through the Minnesota Cooperative Egg and Poultry Exchange, which handles all the shipments of the eighteen cooperative egg and poultry marketing associations which are now operating in Minnesota. The exchange has adopted the name

"Lake Region" for its brand to designate its highest quality eggs, and this label is attached to all cases of extra eggs which are sent East. The second grade of eggs is known as Min-change has acquired a plant at La-Crosse, Wisconsin through which all ed before marketing.

The result of the year's operations of the cooperative marketing associations is that the basic price level throughout Minnesota has been raised 4 cents closer to the Chicago market, which means that all poultry producers are benefiting by the cooperative marketing of eggs and poultry.

NEW INDUSTRIES FOR BRAINERD

Brainerd Chamber of Commerce to Hold Regular Meeting Wednesday Evening

REPORT ON BROOM FACTORY

Report Also on Proposed Harvester
and Thresher Manufacturing
Plant

The regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held on Wednesday evening, May 27th, and President F. H. Gruenhagen announces some important business to be transacted.

Chief among the matters to be discussed are two proposed industries for Brainerd. The first is the combined harvester and thresher manufacturing company, now located at Little Falls, but which would consider moving to Brainerd. About 25 local business men visited the Little Falls plant last week, and will be prepared to report on their findings at Wednesday night's meeting.

J. H. Krekelberg will have a report on the matter of the establishment of a broom factory, probably in the old court house building.

The booster committee has carefully outlined its plans for a campaign which it hopes to stage in the near future, and will report on these plans Wednesday evening.

With the opening of the summer tourist season at hand, and other matters of importance requiring attention, it is necessary that all members make a special effort to be present at the Chamber meeting.

Child Management

Tendencies toward thinking and acting in certain ways, which are called habits, are the outgrowth of training and experience. They are not inherited. BUS COMPETITION

Bus competition is being met by street car lines and by railroads by inaugurating bus service of their own. Many railroads are forced to meet the situation in this manner, the Great Northern railway company being the latest to adopt such a method.

Minneapolis is a great bus center and the bus companies maintain a large station with many conveniences. In proportion as this bus station has grown and enlarged its service, so has train service been cut down and the Union depot list of train arrivals has shrunk from 750 to 200.

The Northern Pacific railway company is experimenting with "gas cars." A gas engine drives a dynamo which makes the electricity propelling a coach and trailer. The coach is divided in three compartments, carrying in their order, passengers, smoker, baggage and express.

The Minnesota & International railway company will shortly receive one of these "gas cars" and trailers and if successful, may operate same in lieu of the M. & I. afternoon passenger. The "gas car" carries but two employees, a conductor and motorman. From 50 to 60 miles hour speed can be attained. Stops and starts can be made quickly and economically.

Taking off whole trains, "cutting out" locomotives, reduces the number of men in railway service and also cuts down the repair bill of the railway company. Every phase of the growing bus-railroad competition will be watched with interest by the public and especially by every railroad shop town.

Putting the bus lines under state railroad and warehouse commission supervision has had a direct result of stiffening bus fares. Cheap round trip rates from certain points have been done away with. Single fares are coming nearer the railroad levels.

Railroads, in turn, have paid more attention to round trip rates and like the roads of the east, have started advertising convention rates, and desirable trips to tourist recreation centers. In the old days, you will remember, many railroads advertised their time tables.

MINNESOTA LAW SUPPLEMENT

SESSION laws of Minnesota passed at the legislative session of 1925 have been published under the direction of Mike Holm, secretary of state. The Brainerd Dispatch carried the laws as a supplement.

There are 22 pages, newspaper size, eight columns in width, embracing acts and resolutions set in small type. How many citizens, how many civic classes in high schools, how many public men, with the exception of lawyers, judges, county, city and state officials, have read them?

Newspapers, in their comments on the legislature, are unable to give even the gist of all the measures passed. An ordinary man in the street often wonders how he is going to observe all these laws ground out by legislative mills in the close to 50 states in the union.

Ignorance of the law is no excuse, is the axiom. But common sense ought to indicate, too, that no mere man is able to read and digest the multifarious system of law enmeshing us locally, state-wide and nationally.

Governor Christianson did a common sense thing by asking the legislature, when it was summoned to "put the brakes" on its law-making tendencies. The country is blessed with enough laws, as it is. All it requires is to enforce what laws we have.

A CONVENTION THAT MEANS MUCH

The convention of the cooperative creamery patrons, directors and operators of Morrison, Aitkin, Crow Wing, Carlton, Cass, Itasca, Beltrami, Hubbard, Koochiching, St. Louis, Lake and Cook counties, to be held in Brainerd on Thursday, June 4, is one of the most important scheduled for some time.

The convention meets in a dairy district fast developing into one of the best in the state, where standard breeds are encouraged, where advanced methods in dairying are succeeding the old-time, haphazard means.

Crow Wing county has the soil and lakes, the alfalfa and meadows, the climate and the cattle, to produce rich milk and cream. Cooperative creameries are flourishing and the dairy industry is now established on a firm and enduring basis.

We hope all Brainerd civic organizations will take cognizance of the coming convention and assist in every way possible. The convention will do much to encourage steps in improved dairying. It will tend to distribute valuable information, to get those attending to state their problems and to offer solutions.

Among the noted dairymen speakers will be John Brandt, president of the association and H. F. Meyer, manager of the butter sales department. O. J. Bouma will give the address of welcome.

A FORESTRY PROGRAM

We speak of a forestry program, but how many land owners make but a slight attempt to carry out such a program.

After a storm such as we had last Friday, European land owners would make a survey of their lands, clear up fallen trees and brush, make a note of their losses and speedily set about replanting trees. Here in America the tree loser bemoans his lot and never thinks of replacing dead and down timber.

A GOOD time will be had by all when the Northern Minnesota editors meet with the North Dakota editors at Detroit, Minn., June 11 to 14, although we doubt that the summer outing there will eclipse the one given the Northern Minnesota Editorial Association at Brainerd and Breezy Point Lodge July 25 to 29, 1923, when the editors were given a complimentary luncheon on the Echo stock farm, a complimentary dinner given by the convention committee at the Ransford, a complimentary fish fry at the Tourist park and a complimentary banquet at Breezy Point Lodge. An editor can always eat and he certainly appreciates such compliments as the above.

SEVERAL cities have had voting contests and have decided on "city flowers," but how many have planted them?

MINNESOTA is not the only state that enjoyed a versatile brand of weather last week.

FAMOUS HUMORIST OF 15TH CENTURYTOMB OF HODJA NASREDDIN TO BE REPAIRED, WAS MARK
TWIN OF EAST

New York, May 26.—Charles R. Crane of Chicago, whose philanthropies in the Near East have embraced almost every phase of humanitarian activity has recently given a sum of money to repair the tomb in Asia Minor of Hodja Nasreddin, a famous humorist of the 15th century.

Everyone who has visited the Near East is familiar with the "Hodja stories," a type of folk-lore similar to Aesop's Fables, which had its origin with Nasreddin. His tomb, in a field near the American orphanage at Konia, Anatolia, has been described by relief workers who have visited it. It is a small domed building, partly open at the sides. Under the dome hangs an enormous green turban, about the size of an umbrella which the Hodja is reputed to have worn during his lifetime.

"Five hundred years ago, Nasreddin was the Mark Twain of the Near East," said Charles V. Vickery, general secretary of the Near East Relief, in an address here this week. "Like Mark Twain, he was more than a mere funny man,—he was a great philosopher who clothed homely truth in a picturesque raiment of wit and satire. He was an itinerant wise man, an exponent of the Golden Rule, who is represented as a sort of combination of Irvin Cobb and Will Rogers,—a stout fellow with enormous spectacles, riding about the countryside on a diminutive donkey, distributing his pungent sayings to the public wherever he went." Mr. Vickery gave several illustrations of the old philosopher's quaint humor.

On one occasion, he related, the Hodja was sleeping on the veranda when he awoke suddenly and saw what he took to be a robber, dressed in white, climbing over the garden wall. He seized his bow and sent an arrow straight through the imaginary intruder, only to find that the white object was one of his own shirts hanging to dry on the wall. "Praise be to Allah," cried the philosopher, "that I was not inside my shirt when I shot the arrow through it."

Nasreddin is said to have been the originator of the mother-in-law joke. His wife one day placed some hot soup before him, and when he took a large spoonful, it burned him so that large tears rolled down his cheeks. "Why are you crying?" asked his wife. "I was thinking of the death of your mother," said the Hodja. "But I didn't know you loved my mother so much," replied the wife. The Hodja made a wry face. "I am weeping because you are not with her," he said.

Nasreddin was asked which was more useful, sun or moon. He replied, "The moon, because the sun comes out in the daytime, when it is already light enough; but the moon comes out at night when we really need light."

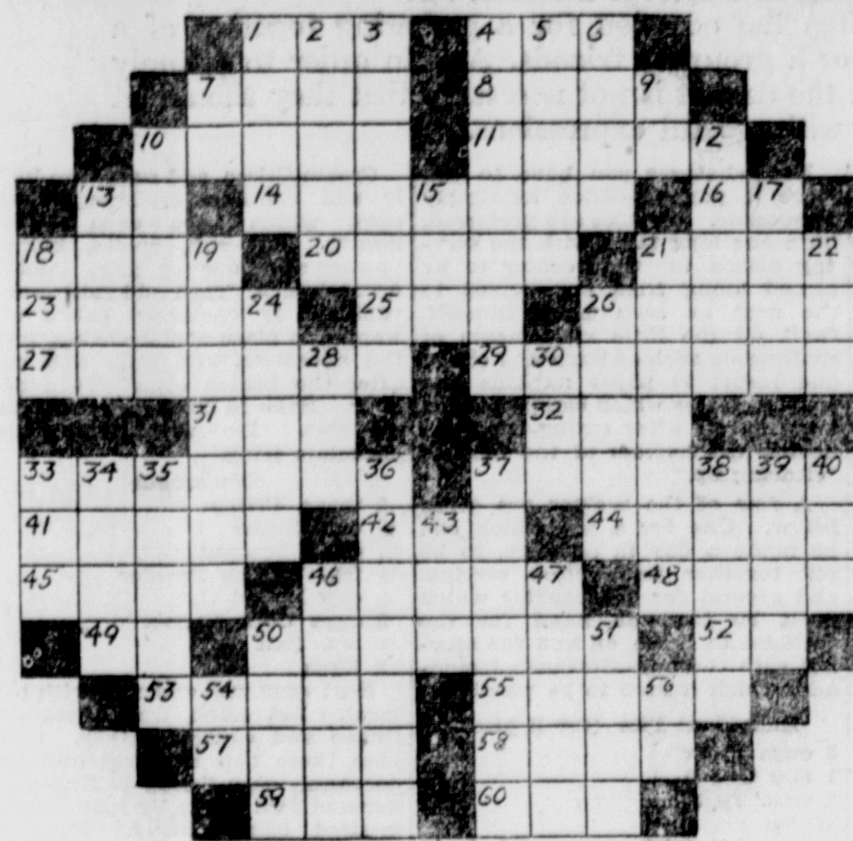

A neighbor visited Nasreddin one day and asked for the loan of his donkey. The Hodja answered that the donkey was not at home. Just then a loud braying came from behind the house. "Ah," said the neighbor, "you have lied to me." "Lied," exclaimed the Hodja angrily. "Would you believe a donkey's word sooner than mine?"

Nasreddin was asked one day by a judge to state his age. "Fifty years,"

TODAY'S DISPATCH CROSS WORD PUZZLE

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

When the correct letters are placed in the white spaces this puzzle will spell words both vertically and horizontally. The first letter in each word is indicated by a number, which refers to the definition listed below the puzzle. Thus No. 1 under the column headed "horizontal" defines a word which will fill the white spaces up to the first black square to the right, and a number under "vertical" defines a word which will fill the white squares to the next black one below. No letters go in the black spaces. All words used are dictionary words, except proper names. Abbreviations, slang, initials, technical terms and obsolete forms are indicated in the definitions.

A Lovely New Home Going Up In West Brainerd
For Ralph Falconer

Mr. Falconer is owner of the successful Riverside Grocery. His business experience has proven to him the value of owning a real home and he came to us recently for the materials to build one.

The new house will be 26x36 with a 9x16 sun parlor. It will have a full basement and every detail from basement to roof will be modern.

The exterior finish will be Rockbound stucco and the roof will be covered with 12 inch Genasco Laytite Shingles.

We were able to make a few suggestions to Mr. Falconer that resulted in a saving to him and we are certain that he and his family will be well pleased with the finished home.

You will appreciate our service, too, no matter what kind of a job you have.

BUS COMPETITION

Bus competition is being met by street car lines and by railroads by inaugurating bus service of their own. Many railroads are forced to meet the situation in this manner, the Great Northern railway company being the latest to adopt such a method.

Minneapolis is a great bus center and the bus companies maintain a large station with many conveniences. In proportion as this bus station has grown and enlarged its service, so has train service been cut down and the Union depot list of train arrivals has shrunk from 750 to 200.

The Northern Pacific railway company is experimenting with "gas cars." A gas engine drives a dynamo which makes the electricity propelling a coach and trailer. The coach is divided in three compartments, carrying in their order, passengers, smoker, baggage and express.

The Minnesota & International railway company will shortly receive one of these "gas cars" and trailers and if successful, may operate same in lieu of the M. & I. afternoon passenger. The "gas car" carries but two employees, a conductor and motorman. From 50 to 60 miles hour speed can be attained. Stops and starts can be made quickly and economically.

Taking off whole trains, "cutting out" locomotives, reduces the number of men in railway service and also cuts down the repair bill of the railway company. Every phase of the growing bus-railroad competition will be watched with interest by the public and especially by every railroad shop town.

Putting the bus lines under state railroad and warehouse commission supervision has had a direct result of stiffening bus fares. Cheap round trip rates from certain points have been done away with. Single fares are coming nearer the railroad levels.

Railroads, in turn, have paid more attention to round trip rates and like the roads of the east, have started advertising convention rates, and desirable trips to tourist recreation centers. In the old days, you will remember, many railroads advertised their time tables.

MINNESOTA LAW SUPPLEMENT

SESSION laws of Minnesota passed at the legislative session of 1925 have been published under the direction of Mike Holm, secretary of state. The Brainerd Dispatch carried the laws as a supplement.

There are 22 pages, newspaper size, eight columns in width, embracing acts and resolutions set in small type. How many citizens, how many civic classes in high schools, how many public men, with the exception of lawyers, judges, county, city and state officials, have read them?

Newspapers, in their comments on the legislature, are unable to give even the gist of all the measures passed. An ordinary man in the street often wonders how he is going to observe all these laws ground out by legislative mills in the close to 50 states in the union.

Ignorance of the law is no excuse, is the axiom. But common sense ought to indicate, too, that no mere man is able to read and digest the multifarious system of law enmeshing us locally, statewide and nationally.

Governor Christianson did a common sense thing by asking the legislature, when it was summoned to "put the brakes" on its law-making tendencies. The country is blessed with enough laws, as it is. All it requires is to enforce what laws we have.

A CONVENTION THAT MEANS MUCH

THE convention of the cooperative creamery patrons, directors and operators of Morrison, Aitkin, Crow Wing, Carlton, Cass, Itasca, Beltrami, Hubbard, Koochiching, St. Louis, Lake and Cook counties, to be held in Brainerd on Thursday, June 4, is one of the most important scheduled for some time.

The convention meets in a dairy district fast developing into one of the best in the state, where standard breeds are encouraged, where advanced methods in dairying are succeeding the old-time, haphazard means.

Crow Wing county has the soil and lakes, the alfalfa and meadows, the climate and the cattle, to produce rich milk and cream. Cooperative creameries are flourishing and the dairy industry is now established on a firm and enduring basis.

We hope all Brainerd civic organizations will take cognizance of the coming convention and assist in every way possible. The convention will do much to encourage steps in improved dairying. It will tend to distribute valuable information, to get those attending to state their problems and to offer solutions.

Among the noted dairymen speakers will be John Brandt, president of the association and H. F. Meyer, manager of the butter sales department. O. J. Bouma will give the address of welcome.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET HELD AT RUTTGER'S, BAY LAKE, BEST IN YEARS

"Oh, wasn't it grand?" "Too bad it rained." "I had a real good time," are a few of the exclamations heard. What are they talking about? Oh, don't you know, the Junior-Senior Prom, of course!

It is gone, but not forgotten. That was one swell affair, let me tell you. The Juniors put themselves out to give us a good time and they made a good job of it.

After the guests thawed out a little bit near the cheerful, roaring fire they started to notice things. The decorations were beautiful and artistic. In the evening they looked even lovelier. The tables were placed in chummy little groups and made you feel hungrier than ever. The place cards with candles stuck in the center of the little decorative roses added a bright spot near every place. They were of gray paper with pink writing. (Look into any girl's Girl Grad Book and you will see them. The napkins' too).

After the guests were seated, songs were sung about the almighty and wonderful Seniors, and a real clever one about Miss Tornstrom and her class.

Telegrams were received by some from their friends. They contained news of business, love and otherwise.

Then came the best thing on the program. Miss Rickard sang for us and received two encores. She sang about something about "being happier when you are two-o-o."

The eats certainly tasted wonderful even if the weather was rainy. Who could resist such a tempting menu as fruit cocktail, chicken, mashed potatoes, buttered peas, scalloped corn, fresh vegetable salad, radishes, celery, olives, jelly, hot rolls, coffee, strawberry ice cream, nabisco wafers, etc.?

Sophie read a poem she wrote. It was a snappy affair about all the important people of the Junior Class.

Then came the best part of the evening. Chairs and tables were pushed aside and for further entertainment and with music and gay moods the rest of the evening also was a success.

SIDE LIGHTS ON THE SENIOR-JUNIOR

The Heroic Heroes' Column

Of all the heroic souls that ever pervaded the atmosphere of a kitchen, President Harry Lyddon takes the cake! He diligently washed all the most unpleasant meat loaf pans at the Senior-Junior picnic. The rest of the dish-washers doff their caps to him.

Herman Schwartzkoff was raved over as the "Marvel of the Century," creating much admiration and disturbance with his "twenty-two minute limited" motor cycle in which he traversed the distance between Brainerd and Rocky Point in the record-breaking time of twenty-two minutes. Many "minor" dare-devils including several "real sports" on the faculty enjoyed a sight-seeing trip with him, about the grounds.

Whew! what a bump! Is it still there? The pathfinders, trail blazers and grub carriers gazed ruefully over their shoulders at the eats, all packed deftly in the back of Oppie's spacious car and time and again after exclamations of the same order had been expressed, they arrived safe and sound at their destination, all due to Bill, who, in our opinion, is a most excellent driver, not as much as a waver having rolled to repose on the dusty pavement. There being no reception committee to welcome them, Bill Dort and Chas. piled out of the Willys-Knight and proceeded to devour the meat loaf that was their just reward.

Oh, yes! Iest we forget—Bill ruined a perfectly good pair of trousers by carrying a large jar of sweet pickles to the car. We don't think his title is justified—that of being "the laziest boy in the class."

Thus the heroes did and died.

Teacher (in General Science): "How can you prevent a lamp from smoking?"

Bright Pupil: "Take the chimney off."

Traveling Troubles

Say, Sam, what was that we just hit? It felt like a boulder. Gosh, yes, that's what it was; do you see that black thing in the road? While Sam was looking out of the car at the old signboard (just out of town) on which could be traced the paint marks of the name "Drinkwater, Arizona," he didn't notice that rock and the only way was to run over it. The seats in the old Ford were pretty well battered but they still held the straw that served for the overstuffed cushions of the East.

I just got through telling you about the seats we were sitting on and then z-z-z-z-z—went our tire, forcing us to get out of our straw bed. After a little investigation we found an old cactus needle letting the air out of the only balloon tire we had. I received a few instructions from Sam and one, two, three, we were all ready for another catastrophe.

Twenty more weary miles, dusk approached. Sam began to yawn and shut off the gas to stop the car; otherwise it would have stopped itself. Then I heard, "I'm too tired; I'm going to let supper slip and go to bed." He slumped into one of the seats. This was all right, but the next morning he noticed it had rained, soiling his wedding suit, but worse than this, he got rheumatism in his upper left eyebrow, making it hard to keep himself and me on the road.

"She's hitting on four on an up-grade gravel road in the mountains with only two inches of spare between two motors. Look out, Sam! Look at that horseless carriage gliding down the slope. It's lucky that Limousine had weed chains on or our name would have been must. Reaching the top of the mountain we turned the nose of the Ford downward and slid the rest of the way.

After sliding a few miles the air in this space became so chilled and let its wetness fall on us poor unprotected travelers. Rain, rain, rain that's how it rained till the Gumbo became so sticky and deep that the results were: disc wheels all for nothing.

The engine kept on going till we landed in Silver, Colorado, a little motor repairing center where we gave our car an underhauling and a bath. It's about time to take the bus.

The lion and the lamb had just lain down together. "As for me," said the lion, "I should like to be called at 7:30 in the morning."

Said the lamb: "Don't bother to call me; I'll probably get up when the lion does."

The Friends of Youth

by O. Lawrence Hawthorne

Where are the comrades of long ago,
The boys and girls that I used to know
Back there in the old home town?
What have they gleaned from the passing years:
Abundant laughter or more of tears?
A cheery smile or a frown?

Back in those fanciful childhood days
We dreamed our dreams, and we went our ways
To make all those dreams come true.
Who have continued to journey's end
That rugged pathway whose upward trend
Finds fortune? I wish I knew!

What have they learned of the better things,
Of the joy that communion with nature brings,
Of the comfort that children give?
What do they know of the peace of mind
That comes to them who are staunch and kind?
I wonder just how they live.

Swiftly the years have been fleeting by;
Broad are the miles that between us lie
And far have we grown apart;
Yet there is something devout and fine
That cherishes those old friends of mine,
And cloisters them in my heart.

RESULTS OF THE GIRLS' TRACK MEET

The Sophomores ran away with the baseball game on Tuesday afternoon, May 19. The score was 21 to 10 at the finish. The school was challenged by the Sophomores so their team consisted of those selected from the other three classes.

In track the Sophs won 24 out of a possible 29 points, the Freshmen 5 and the other classes none. The Sophomore girls up until now have led the others in athletics.

Winners of mile run:

First—Alta Storm, Sophomore.
Second—Viola McKay, Sophomore.
Third—Kathleen Early, Freshman.

One hundred yard dash:

First—Edna Turner, Sophomore.
Second—Gladys Reuter, Soph.
Third—Fern Lewis, Sophomore.

Who, What and Where

The last meeting of the Senior Class was held Wednesday, May 20th and presided over by Pres. Lyddon. It was decided that an additional memorial in the form of a clock was to be left to B. H. S. It is to be purchased with the funds still remaining in the treasury and the money that is left from that expenditure, to be invested in dishes and cutlery for future social use. Harry in his departing speech, thanked all the committees that had aided him during the past year and also thanked the class as a whole for the great honor they conferred upon him in electing him president. Something that warmed the graduates' hearts was a remark made by Miss Tornstrom to the effect that Miss Oldenburg had enjoyed the present Seniors so thoroughly all year. Needless to say they also appreciated Miss Oldenburg who has been a "perfect scout" all year.

Wednesday morning the last assembly call was held in which Richard Marshall, Stewart Gile and Harry Lyddon were awarded their membership cards in the National Athletic Scholarship Society of Secondary Schools.

Commencement exercises will be held Friday night, May 25th, at the New Park Theatre at eight o'clock. President Lotus D. Coffman of the University of Minnesota will be the speaker of the evening.

Chapter III

(The two preceding chapters have been expurgated).

Cleopatra

Once upon a time there was a gal over in Egypt that had all the sheiks of the day washing dishes for her in the Royal Kitchens. She was somewhat stuck on herself and since she had land enough to furnish a first class real estate business, Anthony, Caesar and a bunch of fellows from the Bachelors' Club were making bids for the Royal Furniture. Cleo sort of liked Anthony, and didn't mind Caesar, but the way she treated Octavius was a shame.

Miss Cleo was a real fair-minded girl, however, so she decided to give a banquet and give all of the suitors a chance. She had the banquet hall fixed up and sent out the invitations—gilt edged ones, chiseled on the best rock-bound limestone slab that would get by the post office's weight regulations.

All the boys accepted and after donning their best tin suits, they took the ferry for Egypt.

Octavius wasn't taking any chances so he brought a couple Roman Legions to break up the party.

Cleo met them at the ferry landing all dolled up in her best rags. They rambled up to the Royal Shanty in Cleo's chariot—it had Ben Hurs for a long time.

As soon as they arrived at the shack they lay to, immediately—those Romans never were much for etiquette. Cleo had remembered everything, but Octavius, forgetting himself, let his belt out to the last notch and started gorging. Caesar and Anthony, remembering some of Cleo's previous parties, had parted their hair in the middle, which was a great factor in keeping their heads level—for a time. (They were discovered later under the table).

Octavius, too, could not withstand the powerful influence of the good food and red (censored by the W. C. T. U.) so, forgetting revenge, he fell asleep in his chair. Our story should end here, but Cleo et tu Brutus died from the effects.

Chapter IV Julius Caesar

It was the fifteenth day of March, a cool autumnal day and the leaves were airily drifting to the earth.

You see, the people in those days were most superstitious and so when the king woke up one morning and found that it was Friday, the thirteenth, he was naturally frightened and in his fright he tore about ten sheets off the calendar; thus the calendar was put ahead so far that it was behind.

As I was saying, the day was ideal and many people of the countryside were roaming toward Rome. As they neared the gate many stopped and stared with awed look at a man perched upon a soap box, who was doing seven things at once. It was Julie, of course.

Most of Caesar's early life was spent with the Roamin Circus. As a circus he was very successful for he had a lot of Gaul. He was often consulted by the manager as to whether they should hire a new vampire or not, for when the vamp's trainer would press the manager for dough, he would stall off by saying, "Just wait till Julius sees her!"

After having the circus, he must have taken up dentistry for the next passages have a lot to say about bridges.

"The die is cast," is a passage which is most puzzling for Roman histories have nothing to say about laundries and, although they often mention the baths, it is hardly plausible that Caesar would give up dentistry for a position there.

It is too great a jump—even though Caesar was a great athlete, we do not think he would take it.

Caesar is next spoken of as Imperator of the Empire. As Imperator he made a name in history for he gave Rome a good reign and no one got wet. One of the sayings ascribed to him during this period was "Every inch a king and every foot a ruler."

Caesar's rule was brought to an abrupt end when a jealous fellow named Nero burned Rome up.

Miss Schow

It is now four years ago since the first Brainonian was issued and as many of the present editors and reporters who were then Freshmen, are now graduating, they wish Miss Schow to come in for at least a small part of the praise and credit that is due her. From the very beginning she has taken a very active interest in the paper and always boosted it by calling for contributions from her English pupils once a week and thereby she has filled up many a lacking column with a Gloom Chaser, "Brainless Bit" or feature story. The students invariably seem to enjoy writing for her because she does not demand a contribution and later encourages them in their higher endeavors. Notably among her past pupils are Albert Rathert and Sophie Brending who, since their English II days have become so interested in literary work they vow that after leaving B. H. S. "they are going to take as much of journalism as they can get." Besides being an ardent advocate and helper of those "guilty of authorship," she is a kindly soul, liked by her students, and a teacher that knows how to steer and help one through the trials of English and head breaking problems of Algebra—Miss Schow, we thank you.

BRAINLESS BITS

Miss Erstad: "Why can't men fly if they could move fast enough?"
H. B.: "Because they haven't any feathers."

Chester S.: "What are you waiting for?"
Ole: "Oh, he's waiting to go up with the girls."

Miss Lohr, in Geom.: "Howard, where is your examination slip?"
Howard N.: "Frank's got it."

Miss Lohr: "Well he didn't need to keep it that long."
Howard N.: "Yes, but you don't know Frank."

Miss O'Brien: "What did Caesar do?"
Bright Student: "He discovered the United States."

Miss Oerting: "Edna, why didn't you stay up in front and finish your oration?"
Edna: "I couldn't stay up there any longer."

Miss Oerting: "What were you lacking, will power?"
Edna: "I don't know what I lacked, but I couldn't stand there."

A.: "Who wrote on your comb?"
O.: I don't know. I'll scrape it off this noon when I go home with a knife."

Miss Erstad: "Who can tell me what a fiord is?"
H. B.: "A fiord is a fiord."

Violet W. (reciting 25 lines of poetry in English II review): "That's 24, so, good friends, sweet friends, let me not stir you up to such a sudden flood of mutiny."

Miss Larson: "Raymond, give the history of Russia up to its present time."
Ray N.: "Peter the Great lived about, oh between 1490-1899."

Miss Larson: "Quite a gap, isn't it?"
Ray: "I guess so; I mean about 1799."

Mark Peterson: "Get off my toes!"
Mauritz: "I'm not stepping on them. I'm stepping on the surplus space."

Miss Schow, immediately after assigning sentences for correction, to the pupil: "Alfreda, take your gum out. There isn't any left for Thelma."

J. S., humming a tune she didn't know the name of.
L. S. (wanting to know whether it was time to go home or not): "What time is it, June?"

J. S. (absent-mindedly): "Fox trot time."

A Display of Ignorance

He who is good at making excuses is good at little else.—Zvatski.
That is my excuse for this theme not containing the minimum amount of knowledge.

I sit with a class the seventh period that studies English I. Some of the most important things they study are grammar, spelling and punctuation.

These are very important as they form the foundation of sentence and theme construction. They spent many weary hours with their faithful and efficient teacher (who says the class carries a lot of dead wood and I agree more perfectly with her every time I feel of my head) trying to learn what subject, verb, and complement are, and not use the condemned "ain't."

The way they learn spelling reminds me of the impression of a stick in very soft mud, an impression is made, but soon disappears. Punctuation is too pitiful to speak much about.

Teacher says correctly, that she hammers and hammers at them (and she isn't very weak either) but they can't learn at all.

After they have learned what a sentence and theme ought to be they had to have some good examples.

For this reason they studied literature. The first book was full of fighting, love, treachery and wine. Even a ten cent novel couldn't compare with it for excitement. Next came the Old Testament Stories which were well summarized by a lecturer who came with the Macalester Glee Club. Then came "The Merchant of Venice," a fine book for sentence and theme construction but much too full of love talk for the class. Last of all—I forget—something like "Crab and Rusty."

I slept most of the time they were studying this one but I think, from the title, she punished him severely.

The class has received untold benefits (such as learning what space looks like) from this remarkable course, but they are not the only ones.

At last, dear friend,
Your troubles end.
No more news items to write,

Miss Schow, so dear,
Say "News items we'll write."
For three long months our troubles o'er.

We need not tax our brains so poor.
For no news items to write,

But, alas! again we're bound to hear,
Today news items we write!

Miss Laipple, in Biology the day before exams: "Are there any questions?"

Elof P.: "Yes, what is the first question of the examination?"

Miss Laipple: "What made it possible for Pasteur to make discoveries with bacteria?"

Elof A.: "The telescope."

When a student in Com. Geog. had attempted to recite on a subject several times and failed, Elof P. was heard to say in a bright manner: "Let me guess once."

Teacher: "What are the chief ways of transportation in the U. S.?"
A. K.: "Fords and aeroplanes."

Mr. Schaumburg: "What disease caused the most deaths in your community last year?"

Mark P.: "Auto accidents."

Mr. Schaumburg: "Elmer Peterson, name the first stage of the fly."
Elmer Peterson: "Oh, the flea."

Teacher: "What animal eats the least?"

Bright Student: "Moth, it eats holes."

Teacher: "Is there any word in the English language that contains all the vowels?"

Pupil: "Unquestionably."
Teacher: "What is it?"
Pupil: "I just told you."

On Friday afternoon after the Science Examination and the temperature was soaring in the nineties and still "going up" the Freshies hid themselves out to the cool shady shores of Gilbert Lake. This was to be their last outing together as Freshmen so all were determined to have a good time.

A very appetizing lunch and entertainment formed the pleasures of the afternoon which were unfortunately cut short by the approaching storm.

All hastened on their way homeward, some reaching there as the storm broke, others being forced to take shelter in a house near the Northwest Paper Mill. Those having cars did their best to convey the crowd safely home but some who walked were quite badly drenched.

The party was chaperoned by Miss Mosier, Miss Hall and Mr. Schaumburg. Miss Lohr helped both in bringing the students out and back in her car. Despite the storm this closing activity was much enjoyed. Goodbye, Freshmen Year!

Three Cheers for the Freshies! Hip Hip, Hooray!

Come on, Sophomore Year, we're prepared!

Annuals Are Out

The '25 Brainonian annual was distributed Monday and needless to say the finished product is the crowning achievement of Editor Albert Rathert's career. The covers alone are a joy to behold and the farther one delves into the pages the more he begins to wonder on all the foresight and thought that must have been given to the previous planning. For five steady months he has been gathering material, collecting pictures, soliciting advertising, getting subscriptions, etc., in fact, doing everything that was essential to making the present edition the annual that it is. B. H. S. can indeed be proud of the youth who succeeded in reaching the goal that he so tirelessly strove for—that of a bigger and better Brainonian.

Dear Mr. Krueger: We are very, very sorry to have left out your name in the faculty write-up last week.

Accept our humble apologies; it shall never happen again.

Sincerely,
The Author.

Baseball Game

Brainerd High School won easily in its last baseball game of the season against Aitkin High last Thursday afternoon by a one-sided score of 13-0.

The game was very uninteresting. Aitkin making many bad errors when men were on bases.

Avery of Brainerd twirled a nice game, getting 15 strikeouts in his first start of the season.

The return game with Aitkin, scheduled for the 23rd, was postponed on account of inclement weather.

IRENE MOLSTAD

If you don't know Irene Molstad, Be sure and know her quick. For if you have her for a friend, She will surely be a "brick."

She parts her hair in the middle, With a pigtail on each side, Hers is a velvety complexion And a blush just like a bride's.

She's very cute and pretty, And a good athlete, too; There's nothing Irene Molstad Cannot or will not do.

She's very good at volley ball, Basketball and baseball, too; When she tries to make a basket, It nearly always goes through.

You'll want to know her better The first time after you've met; She'll do something for you, You won't easily forget.

Try to get Irene Molstad for a friend, But don't steal her from me, My miseries would have no end—I'd be as sad as I could be.

"Oh, wasn't it grand?" "Too bad it rained!" "I had a real good time," are a few of the exclamations heard. What are they talking about? Oh, don't you know, the Junior-Senior Prom, of course!

It is gone, but not forgotten. That was one swell affair, let me tell you. The Juniors put themselves out to give us a good time and they made a good job of it.

After the guests thawed out a little bit near the cheerful, roaring fire they started to notice things. The decorations were beautiful and artistic. In the evening they looked even lovelier. The tables were placed in chummy little groups and made you feel hungrier than ever. The place cards with candles stuck in the center of the little decorative roses added a bright spot near every place. They were of gray paper with pink writing. (Look into any girl's Girl Grad Book and you will see them. The napkins' too).

After the guests were seated, songs were sung about the almighty and wonderful Seniors, and a real clever one about Miss Tornstrom and her class.

Telegrams were received by some from their friends. They contained news of business, love and otherwise.

Then came the best thing on the program. Miss Rickard sang for us and received two encores. She sung about something about "being happier when you are two-o-o."

The eats certainly tasted wonderful even if the weather was rainy. Who could resist such a tempting menu as fruit cocktail, chicken, mashed potatoes, buttered peas, scalloped corn, fresh vegetable salad, radishes, celery, olives, jelly, hot rolls, coffee, strawberry ice cream, nabisco wafers, etc.?

Sophie read a poem she wrote. It was a snappy affair about all the important people of the Junior Class.

Then came the best part of the evening. Chairs and tables were pushed aside and for further entertainment and with music and gay moods the rest of the evening also was a success.

SIDE LIGHTS ON THE SENIOR-JUNIOR

The Heroic Heroes' Column

Of all the heroic souls that ever pervaded the atmosphere of a kitchen, President Harry Lyddon takes the cake! He diligently washed all the most unpleasant meat loaf pans at the Senior-Junior picnic. The rest of the dish-washers doff their caps to him.

Herman Schwartzkoff was raved over as the "Marvel of the Century," creating much admiration and disturbance with his "twenty-two minute limited" motor cycle in which he traversed the distance between Brainerd and Rocky Point in the record-breaking time of twenty-two minutes. Many "minor" dare-devils including several "real sports" on the faculty enjoyed a sight-seeing trip with him, about the grounds.

Whew! what a bump! Is it still there? The pathfinders, trail blazers and grub carriers gazed ruefully over their shoulders at the eats, all packed deftly in the back of Oppies' spacious car and time and again after exclamations of the same order had been expressed, they arrived safe and sound at their destination, all due to Bill, who, in our opinion, is a most excellent driver, not as much as a water having rolled to repose on the dusty pavement. There being no reception committee to welcome them, Bill Dort and Choaf piled out of the Willys-Knight and proceeded to devour the meat loaf that was their just reward.

Oh, yes! Iest we forget—Bill ruined a perfectly good pair of trousers by carrying a large jar of sweet pickles to the car. We don't think his title is justified—that of being "the laziest boy in the class."

Thus the heroes did and died.

Teacher (in General Science): "How can you prevent a lamp from smoking?"

Bright Pupil: "Take the chimney off."

Traveling Troubles

Say, Sam, what was that we just hit? It felt like a boulder. Gosh, yes, that's what it was; do you see that black thing in the road? While Sam was looking out of the car at the old signboard (just out of town) on which could be traced the paint marks of the name "Drinkwater, Arizona," he didn't notice that rock and the only way was to run over it. The seats in the old Ford were pretty well battered but they still held the straw that served for the overstuffed cushions of the East.

I just got through telling you about the seats we were sitting on and then z-z-z-z-z—went our tire, forcing us to get out of our straw bed. After a little investigation we found an old cactus needle letting the air out the only balloon tire we had. I received a few instructions from Sam and one, two, three, we were all ready for another catastrophe.

Twenty more weary miles, dusk approached. Sam began to yawn and shut off the gas to stop the car; otherwise it would have stopped itself. Then I heard, "I'm too tired; I'm going to let supper slip and go to bed." He slumped into one of the seats. This was all right, but the next morning he noticed it had rained, soiling his wedding suit, but worse than this, he got rheumatism in his upper left eyebrow, making it hard to keep himself and me on the road.

"She's hitting on four on an up-grade gravel road in the mountains with only two inches to spare between two motors. Look out, Sam! Look at that horseless carriage gliding down the slope. It's lucky that Limousine had weed chains on or our name would have been must. Reaching the top of the mountain we turned the nose of the Ford downward and slid the rest of the way.

After sliding a few miles the air in this space became so chilled and let its wetness fall on us poor unprotected travelers. Rain, rain, rain that's how it rained till the Gumbo became so sticky and deep that the results were: disc wheels all for nothing.

The engine kept on going till we landed in Silvered, Colorado, a little motor repairing center where we gave our car an underhauling and a bath. It's about time to take the bus.

The lion and the lamb had just lain down together. "As for me," said the lion, "I should like to be called at 7:30 in the morning."

Said the lamb: "Don't bother to call me; I'll probably get up when the lion does."

RESULTS OF THE GIRLS' TRACK MEET

The Sophomores ran away with the baseball game on Tuesday afternoon, May 19. The score was 21 to 10 at the finish. The school was challenged by the Sophomores so their team consisted of those selected from the other three classes.

In track the Sophs won 24 out of a possible 29 points, the Freshmen 5 and the other classes none. The Sophomore girls up until now have led the others in athletics.

Winners of mile run:
First—Alta Storm, Sophomore.
Second—Viola McKay, Sophomore.
Third—Kathleen Early, Freshman.

Say "News items we'll write." For three long months our troubles o'er.

We need not tax our brains so poor. For no news items to write, No more jokes until next year.

But, alas! again we're bound to hear, Today news items we write!

Miss Laipple, in Biology the day before exams: "Are there any questions?"

Elof P.: "Yes, what is the first question of the examination?"

Miss Laipple: "What made it possible for Pasteur to make discoveries with bacteria?"

Eino A.: "The telescope."

When a student in Com. Geog. had attempted to recite on a subject several times and failed, Elof P. was heard to say in a bright manner: "Let me guess once."

Teacher: "What are the chief ways of transportation in the U. S.?"
A. K.: "Fords and aeroplanes."

Mr. Schaumburg: "What disease caused the most deaths in your community last year?"

Mark P.: "Auto accidents."

Mr. Schaumburg: "Elmer Peterson, name the first stage of the fly."

Elmer Peterson: "Oh, the flea."

Teacher: "What animal eats the least?"

Bright Student: "Moth, it eats holes."

Teacher: "Is there any word in the English language that contains all the vowels?"

Pupil: "Unquestionably."
Teacher: "What is it?"
Pupil: "I just told you."

On Friday afternoon after the Science Examination and the temperature was soaring in the nineties and still "going up" the Freshies hid themselves out to the cool shady shores of Gilbert Lake. This was to be their last outing together as Freshmen so all were determined to have a good time.

A very appetizing lunch and entertainment formed the pleasures of the afternoon which were unfortunately cut short by the approaching storm.

All hastened on their way homeward, some reaching there as the storm broke, others being forced to take shelter in a house near the Northwest Paper Mill. Those having cars did their best to convey the crowd safely home but some who walked were quite badly drenched.

The party was chaperoned by Miss Mosier, Miss Hall and Mr. Schaumburg. Miss Lohr helped both in bringing the students out and back in her car. Despite the storm this closing activity was much enjoyed.

Goodbye, Freshmen Year!
Three Cheers for the Freshies! Hip Hip, Hooray!

Come on, Sophomore Year, we're prepared!

Annuals Are Out

The '25 Brainonian annual was distributed Monday and needless to say the finished product is the crowning achievement of Editor Albert Rathert's career. The covers alone are a joy to behold and the farther one delves into the pages the more he begins to wonder on all the fore-sight and thought that must have been given to the previous planning. For five steady months he has been gathering material, collecting pictures, soliciting advertising, getting subscriptions, etc., in fact, doing everything that was essential to making the present edition the annual that it is. B. H. S. can indeed be proud of the youth who succeeded in reaching the goal that he so tirelessly strove for—that of a bigger and better Brainonian.

Dear Mr. Krueger: We are very, very sorry to have left out your name in the faculty write-up last week.

Accept our humble apologies; it shall never happen again.

Sincerely,

The Author.

Baseball Game

Brainerd High School won easily in its last baseball game of the season against Aitkin High last Thursday afternoon by a one-sided score of 13-0.

The game was very uninteresting. Aitkin making many bad errors when men were on bases.

Avery of Brainerd twirled a nice game, getting 15 strikeouts in his first start of the season.

The return game with Aitkin, scheduled for the 23rd, was postponed on account of inclement weather.

IRENE MOLSTAD

If you don't know Irene Molstad, Be sure and know her quick. For if you have her for a friend, She will surely be a "brick."

She parts her hair in the middle, With a pigtail on each side, Hers is a velvety complexion And a blush just like a bride's.

She's very cute and pretty, And a good athlete, too; There's nothing Irene Molstad Cannot or will not do.

She's very good at volley ball, Basketball and baseball, too; When she tries to make a basket, It nearly always goes through.

You'll want to know her better The first time after you've met; She'll do something for you, You won't easily forget.

Try to get Irene Molstad for a friend, But don't steal her from me, My miseries would have no end—I'd be as sad as I could be.

The Friends of Youth

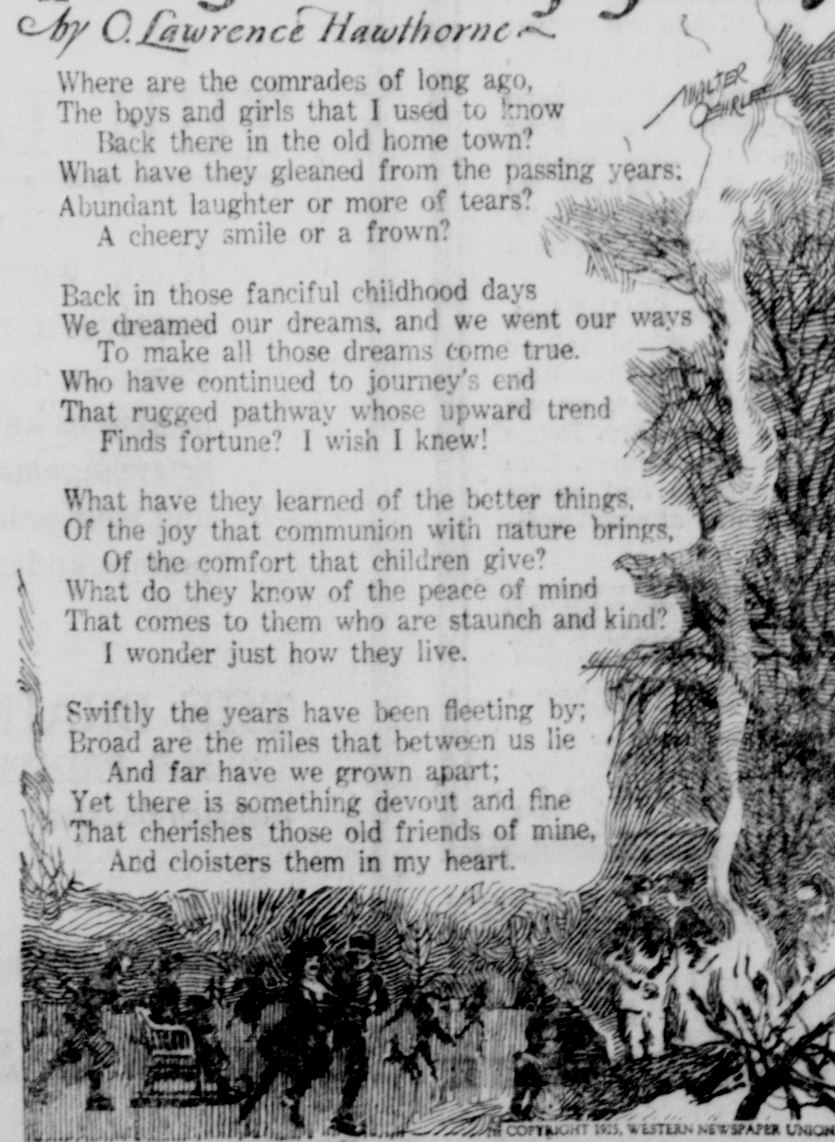

By O. Lawrence Hawthorne

Where are the comrades of long ago,
The boys and girls that I used to know
Back there in the old home town?
What have they gleaned from the passing years:
Abundant laughter or more of tears?
A cheery smile or a frown?

Back in those fanciful childhood days
We dreamed our dreams, and we went our ways
To make all those dreams come true.
Who have continued to journey's end
That rugged pathway whose upward trend
Finds fortune? I wish I knew!

What have they learned of the better things,
Of the joy that communion with nature brings,
Of the comfort that children give?
What do they know of the peace of mind
That comes to them who are staunch and kind?
I wonder just how they live.

Swiftly the years have been fleeting by;
Broad are the miles that between us lie
And far have we grown apart;
Yet there is something devout and fine
That cherishes those old friends of mine,
And cloisters them in my heart.

Brainerd Police Believe They Have Solved Mystery of "Borrowed" Cars

SUSPECT IS QUESTIONED

Albert Schwendeman, Age 17, Police Report as Making a Confession

Brainerd police believe that they have solved the mystery of stolen automobiles, which practice has been causing no little trouble the past few months, it being believed that the cars were taken by "joy-riders" who went out for a good time and later abandoned the machines in some out-of-the-way spot, where there would be little danger of being caught.

Albert Schwendeman, age 17 years, was suspected of being implicated in the taking of these cars, and was taken into custody Monday afternoon and questioned. Police state that young Schwendeman made a clean confession in which he admitted the taking of the George Egan Overland touring car on Sunday night, abandoning it near the corner of Main and North Third street; the taking of the W. L. Carlisle Overland sedan on May 20th, leaving it after a long ride near Oak and Thirteenth streets; and the taking of the Eloy Olson Overland car on March 15th, which he left near the four-mile corner on Oak street.

Schwendeman's father owns an Overland car, which may explain the boy's favoring this make, and he found a way whereby he could easily pick the lock on this kind of machine making it possible for him to procure a car even though the owner had the key.

It is said that on Sunday evening a traveling man offered Schwendeman $2 if he would take him and a friend riding. The boy told the man that he could get his uncle's car and a deal was consummated for the ride. Schwendeman located the Egan car, parked on Front street, and appropriated it, thus earning a little spending money.

Finger prints were taken of Schwendeman's fingers and the marks on the Egan car, which are said to be identical, thus supporting the boy's confession, and substantiating the belief of the police that they have at last solved the stolen car mystery.

It is said that in confessing to the taking of the Overland cars, young Schwendeman told of other questionable escapades, and brought into these the names of several of his chums, who have also been taken into custody.

Since Schwendeman is only 17 years of age, his case was certified to the juvenile court, where it was to be heard, together with the cases of his friends, this afternoon.

Betty Compson At The Rialto
Betty Compson in the Paramount picture, "New Lives for Old" is the feature at the New Park Wednesday and Thursday.

The story is one of Paris in 1918. Betty plays the role of a celebrated Parisian dancer. She spends her holidays as a peasant girl on her aunt's farm in Normandy. Here she meets Hugh Warren, American officer. It is a case of love at first sight. Warren continues on his way up to the lines and Betty returns to Paris where she becomes involved in the French secret service. It all happens at her cafe which is the headquarters for officers, soldiers on leave, etc. She proposes a toast to France and dashes a glass of wine into the face of one man who fails to rise. She learns later the reason— one leg has been shot away. She apologizes tearfully and he tells her that if she really wants to help her country there is another way.

So it is that Betty sets out on the trail of de Montrichard (Kosloff) a German spy masquerading as a French officer.

President of University of Chicago Has Died

(By United Press)

Chicago, May 26.—President Ernest DeWitt Burton of the University of Chicago died here today from complications following an operation for cancer of the intestines. He was 69 years old.

President Burton took a sudden turn for the worse shortly after midnight when peritonitis developed. Two operations had been performed in hopes that his life might be saved.

The first occurred a month ago and the second May 19, just two weeks before death. After the first operation Dr. Burton recovered to the extent that he could walk about the midway. The relapse took place in a fortnight, however, and the second operation removed the obstruction.

Dr. Burton took over the presidency a little more than two years ago.

FAMOUS FORTS IN U. S. HISTORY

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

When Dutch and Swedes Fought on U. S. Soil

When Gustavus Adolphus, the great king of Sweden, saw the success of other European nations in planting colonies in the New World, he resolved in America. Accordingly he formed a colonizing company for that purpose, but his death prevented the plan from being carried out.

Queen Christina and Oxenstiern, Adolphus' famous minister, however, renewed the project and in 1638 they sent out a colony of "plain, strong, industrious people," who settled in what is now the state of Delaware and called it New Sweden. There they built a fort, which stood near the present city of Wilmington, and they named it Fort Christina in honor of their queen.

The new colony was soon in trouble. This ground was claimed by the Dutch, who had settled New Amsterdam a quarter of a century before, and after several years of bitter dispute between the Dutch and the Swedes, Peter Stuyvesant, the choleric old governor of New Amsterdam, resolved to put an end to the trouble by expelling the Swedes.

In 1654 Stuyvesant sailed from New Amsterdam with a fleet to capture Fort Christina. Washington Irving, in his inimitable "Knickerbocker's History of New York," tells how Governor Stuyvesant called upon Gov. Jan Risingh to surrender, how the proposal was scornfully rejected, and how the Dutch warriors, following their ancient rule of always fighting upon a full stomach ate a mighty dinner in preparing for the fray. Then, according to this historian, "brimful of wrath and cabbage," they moved forward to the attack. Just before reaching the fort they paused, lighted their pipes, gave a furious puff and charged gallantly under the cover of the smoke. After an heroic struggle, in which Governor Stuyvesant vanquished Governor Risingh in single combat, the fort was carried by assault without the loss of a single man on either side!

Although we cannot accept Irving's story unreservedly, the assault on Fort Christina must have been something of an opera bouffe affair, unique in the annals of warfare. But the triumph of the Dutch was short-lived, for in 1664 the English took possession of all the Dutch colonies in America and the British flag supplanted the Dutch banner over Fort Christina. To-day no trace of the fort remains, but nearby stands the little gray stone church, built in 1698, the successor of the chapel in the fort where the Swedish colonists worshiped, as a reminder of the fort where once Dutchman and Swede fought in America.

tonight and Wednesday, one comes away with a realization that there is nothing quite so interesting as daily life. "The Signal Tower" is a Universal-super-Jewel in which Virginia Valli stars. It was directed by Clarence L. Brown. The picture was made from the prize-winning story by Wadsworth Camp. Miss Valli was supported by a small but unusually capable cast, and the story required no elaborate stage building, for the filming was done in the redwood forests of Northern California, where great trees created a cathedral. Here the hand of man constructed a railroad.

FAMOUS FORTS IN U. S. HISTORY

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

When Dutch and Swedes Fought on U. S. Soil

When Gustavus Adolphus, the great king of Sweden, saw the success of other European nations in planting colonies in the New World, he resolved in America. Accordingly he formed a colonizing company for that purpose, but his death prevented the plan from being carried out.

Queen Christina and Oxenstiern, Adolphus' famous minister, however, renewed the project and in 1638 they sent out a colony of "plain, strong, industrious people," who settled in what is now the state of Delaware and called it New Sweden. There they built a fort, which stood near the present city of Wilmington, and they named it Fort Christina in honor of their queen.

The new colony was soon in trouble. This ground was claimed by the Dutch, who had settled New Amsterdam a quarter of a century before, and after several years of bitter dispute between the Dutch and the Swedes, Peter Stuyvesant, the choleric old governor of New Amsterdam, resolved to put an end to the trouble by expelling the Swedes.

In 1654 Stuyvesant sailed from New Amsterdam with a fleet to capture Fort Christina. Washington Irving, in his inimitable "Knickerbocker's History of New York," tells how Governor Stuyvesant called upon Gov. Jan Risingh to surrender, how the proposal was scornfully rejected, and how the Dutch warriors, following their ancient rule of always fighting upon a full stomach ate a mighty dinner in preparing for the fray. Then, according to this historian, "brimful of wrath and cabbage," they moved forward to the attack. Just before reaching the fort they paused, lit their pipes, gave a furious puff and charged gallantly under the cover of the smoke. After an Homeric struggle, in which Governor Stuyvesant vanquished Governor Risingh in single combat, the fort was carried by assault without the loss of a single man on either side!

Although we cannot accept Irving's story unreservedly, the assault on Fort Christina must have been something of an opera bouffe affair, unique in the annals of warfare. But the triumph of the Dutch was short-lived, for in 1664 the English took possession of all the Dutch colonies in America and the British flag supplanted the Dutch banner over Fort Christina. Today no trace of the fort remains, but nearby stands the little gray stone church, built in 1698, the successor of the chapel in the fort where the Swedish colonists worshipped, as a reminder of the fort where once Dutchmen and Swedes fought in America. IN ILL HEALTH, COMMITTS SUICIDE

Henry J. Johnston, Farmer of Rail Prairie, Takes Strychnine Poison at Home of Relative

DIES SHORTLY AFTER

Leaves Wife, Son in Wisconsin, And Daughters in Minneapolis

Henry J. Johnston, who with his family has been residing near Rail Prairie, in Morrison county, committed suicide at the Herman Alguer farm, in Long Lake township, on Monday afternoon, by taking a large quantity of strychnine. Mr. Johnston had been in ill health for several years, which is given as the cause for the rash deed.

The Johnston's came to Brainerd from their home on Monday morning. Mr. Johnston called on Mr. Alguer, who is a relative, and stated that he wished to go out to the farm for a visit. Mr. Alguer came to Brainerd and got him, arriving at the farm in time for dinner.

After dinner Johnston complained of not feeling well, and went into the bedroom to lie down. He called to Mrs. Alguer for a glass of water, drinking a part of it, and telling her to leave the balance there, that he might want it.

When Mrs. Alguer had left the room, Johnston mixed a quantity of the strychnine with the water, enough, it is said, to have killed a dozen people, and drank the mixture.

Mrs. Alguer heard a commotion in the bed room and ran in to see what the trouble was. Johnston told her what he had done and begged her not to call a doctor, as he wished to die. However, she ran to a neighbors and called a Brainerd physician, but Johnston passed away before medical aid arrived.

Coroner D. E. Whitney was called, and pronounced death due to strychnine poisoning, self inflicted. The remains were brought to Brainerd and prepared for burial.

Henry J. Johnston was born in Westfield, Wisconsin, October 22nd, 1856. For the past year he had lived at Rail Prairie, but for several years previous to that time he had conducted a restaurant at Cohasset.

In addition to his wife, he leaves to mourn his loss a son residing in Wisconsin, and daughters living in Minneapolis.

Funeral arrangements have not been definitely decided, pending word from relatives.

THERE WILL BE A PARADE

Lee Bros. Wild Animal Show to March in Brainerd, Saturday, May 30th

Yes, there will be a parade!

When Lee Bros. Wild Animal show visits Brainerd on Saturday, May 30, there will positively be a parade. It is a parade that is different and not to be in any wise similar to parades of the past. With the advantage of many years spent in the tented show business, Lee Bros. have constantly been gathering material to be used in this year's street pageant. Agents have ransacked remote savage lands, artists and designers from studios the world over, mechanic and property builders have been working constantly for a year executing the new ideas presented.

Everything is new and more gorgeous by far than anything of its kind displayed in the past and the effect is dazzling. As this parade excels, so does its performance, and more trained animals are shown than has heretofore been seen under one tent. Animals are made to do seemingly impossible tricks and do things that are really astonishing when taken into consideration that most of them are from the wild forests and there is also a big selection of domestic animals. Dogs, ponies, goats, horses and others in some clever performances.

There is no question as to the difference in the quality and uniqueness of this show. Many heretofore unheard of animals are exhibited and one of the most stupendous and educational spectacles ever seen will be a feature. It is called "America, the Land of Peace." It is gorgeous and original and one that will create much enthusiasm and at the same time prove educational.

Two performances are given—rain or shine—and there is little doubt as to the attendance of this wonderful animal entertainment.

List of Valedictorians in 5 Schools And Speakers to Present Medals

The gold medals to be presented to the valedictorians of the Brainerd, Staples, Pine River, Crosby-Ironton and Aitkin accredited high schools, by the Brainerd B. P. O. Elks, arrived on Monday afternoon, and with the pictures of these valedictorians, were displayed in an attractive window setting at the Ten Thousand Lakes studio, as depicted in the accompanying illustration.

These medals are especially attractive.

Graduating class, Brainerd high school, special window decorations at the Ten Thousand Lakes Studio

They are held from a bar pin by neat chains. On the bar pin is the Elks head emblem in relief, together with the word, "Valedictorian." On the face of the medal are two books, surmounted with an oil lamp. The reverse of the medal gives the name of the high school and the name of the valedictorian, with the statement that it is presented by Brainerd B. P. O. E. No. 615.

The valedictorians receiving these Elks medals, together with the school colors, are as follows:

Brainerd high school, Miss Elizabeth Folsom, school colors, blue and white; Staples, Richard Hackenberg, colors, red and white; Pine River, Robert Williams, colors, orange and black; Crosby-Ironton, Vivian Humphrey, colors, maroon and white; Aitkin, Mildred Getting, colors, orange and black.

FAREWELL RECEPTION

Accorded Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Cocks at Home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ellison

Last Saturday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ellison, 523 North Fourth street, was the scene of a happy gathering of the residents of that part of the city in a farewell reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Cocks and family, who are shortly to move to Los Angeles, California, where they expect to make their future home.

At 9 o'clock 24 of the neighbors arrived and were met and welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Ellison, whose kindly greeting put all at ease and in the best of humor.

An hour later Prof. J. A. Wilson called the gathering to order and in an appropriate speech presented Mr. and Mrs. Cocks with a beautiful bridge lamp, the gift of the neighbors to these departing friends.

In his remarks Mr. Wilson stated that he believed in a heaven, but that if he successfully passed the gates to that realm he did not expect to find greater happiness or more pleasure than he had found in many homes in Brainerd, and especially was this true of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cocks to which he had often turned when the battle of life became too strong, and had never failed to return to his own rooms purified and strengthened by the kindly words of this family.

The remainder of the evening was

Dr. A. K. Cohen, exalted ruler of Brainerd lodge, will present the medal to Miss Folsom at the commencement exercises on Friday evening, May 29th. Hon. E. P. Scallon will present the medal to the valedictorian of the Crosby-Ironton high school on Thursday evening, May 28. John J. Cummins, secretary of 615, will present the medal at the commencement exercises of the Aitkin high school on Friday evening. Past Exalted Ruler R. R. Gould will present the medal to the valedictorian at the commencement exercises of the Pine River high school on Friday evening, and Mayor H. J. Dower, of Staples, will present the medal at the commencement exercises of that school on Thursday evening.

J. M. Gorham, proprietor of the Ten Thousand Lakes studio, is giving valuable assistance by taking a photograph of each valedictorian to receive an Elks medal, and from these pictures will have newspaper cuts made for insertion in the home town papers of the ones receiving the medals.

Mr. Gorham has arranged a window display that is receiving very favorable comment from the public. It is a display of a high school window, featuring the class of 1925 of the Brainerd high school, and the valedictorians of the Staples, Pine River, Crosby-Ironton and Aitkin schools.

In the center of this window is a large group picture of 92 of the 94 graduates of the Brainerd high school graduating class, flanked by a smaller copy of the same photograph which can be secured by the individual members. Completing the display are pictures of the valedictorians.

spent by some in conversation and by others in cards. At 11:30 the hostess served a delicious luncheon and at midnight the friends bade the Cocks family goodbye, with good speed to their new home. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Heald, of Hubert.

Surprise Party

A group of friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Wise, 924 South Sixth street on Friday evening, the occasion being a surprise for Mrs. John Wise, Jr., who left on Saturday afternoon for Hibbing, to join her husband who is employed at the Red Owl store in that village.

The evening was spent informally, at cards and other diversions, and closed with a delicious luncheon.

MEMORIAL DAY TO HONOR WAR DEAD

Patriotic Organizations Ask Day of Tribute Rather Than Celebration

SHOULD ATTEND IN MORNING

American Legion Sponsors Programs Saturday in Every Corner of the State

Memorial day in Minnesota municipalities will in general be a day of reverence—a day of tribute to the state's soldier dead rather than a day of celebration.

In many of the villages, towns and cities of the state officials of the American Legion and other patriotic organizations have issued pleas to the citizenry to abandon the customary pursuits of the day and devote the period to honoring the swiftly vanishing heroes of the Civil war.

Stores will be closed all day in most communities, and parades, speeches and the customary placing of flowers over the graves of the dead veterans of the nation's wars with military honors, will be the order of the occasion.

In some cities, celebrations, including ball games, automobile races and other attractions are scheduled, but the bulk of the municipalities are frowning on this form of observation of Memorial day.

The American Legion is sponsoring many programs throughout the state and the department headquarters at St. Paul has arranged to provide scores of speakers from the southernmost boundary of Minnesota to the "far north country."

In many cities the American Legion men will be in uniform as an escort to the diminishing veterans of the Civil war.

At Brainerd and many other cities in the state the American Legion has entered pleas with various organizations to make the day an occasion of reverence.

"If you have to make it a day of pleasure, at least stay home and participate in the morning program," an official of the Sydney Carl Hanson post said.

State offices will be closed, as will all Minnesota schools.

MEMORIAL DAY NOTICE

I am very sorry that the City Council gave the Lee Brothers Circus permission to show in Brainerd on Memorial Day. When the application for license was made I spoke against it being issued for Memorial Day and urged another date be selected, but the license was issued against my wishes. I further wish to state that the parade will not be permitted to start until the Memorial services are over.

SEALS TEAM IS RE-CHRISTENED THE ELKS

COLLEGE STARS DRAW B. B. MANAGERS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, May 26.—Several major league ball clubs were willing to take a $75,000 to $100,000 gamble on Owen Carroll, the sensational pitcher of the Holy Cross College 'varsity nine. Competent scouts, who have been watching him for two years, say that he is ready to step into the major leagues without a hitch in the minors and that he is a natural ball player. In addition to being a smart pitcher, he is a fine hitter and a skilled fielder.

Carroll pledged himself two years ago to the Detroit Tigers and his name appeared upon the eligible list. Last winter he was dropped to the ineligible list and it was thought at the time that Ty Cobb just wanted to make room for another player until Carroll finished his studies. It was a surprise to baseball men to learn that Detroit had secured first crack at his services because he had told several other clubs that his vocation was the priesthood and that he didn't care to follow the career of a baseball player. If he did decide to play a few years, it was thought certain that he would be landed by the Philadelphia Athletics who have an inside track through Jack Barry, Holy Cross coach, and formerly one of Connie Mack's stars.

Apparently Carroll doesn't want to play with Detroit and he has asked Commissioner Landis to be relieved from the pledge that he signed with Detroit. He maintains that he was under age when he signed and that it was not valid. There is very little chance that the commissioner will see it that way, however, because a college boy, even though he were only sixteen or seventeen, ought to have intelligence enough to know what he was doing. Carroll's brilliant work has done much to place Holy Cross in the limelight, although for years it has had the reputation of developing more baseball players than any other institution in the country.

Baseball supports itself and makes money at Holy Cross. There are no figures available, but it is thought that Holy Cross is the only college in the country where baseball is a real money maker.

Records show that the 'varsity nine played before 65,000 last season at Worcester and the team is such a drawing card that the Worcester team in the Eastern League arranges its schedule so that it will be on the road when Holy Cross plays at home. Last year on a holiday date the 'varsity nine and the professional team played at home. Ten thousand spectators saw the college game and 500 looked at the league game.

ELKS WIN FROM Y TEAM BY A 12 TO 2 SCORE

VAN WALK LAST NIGHT HURLED A MASTERLY GAME Y NINE CLAIMS TO BE A CRIPPLE, BEING MINUS FIVE REGULARS

Van Walk hurled masterly ball against the Y. M. C. A. last night, and won a decisive victory for the B. P. O. E., formerly the Seals. The score was 12-2, and just about indicates the difference in playing between the teams. The Y. M. C. A. went into the game crippled by the loss of three infielders and two outfielders. Take Peterson, Thorkildson, Anderson, Ringer and Johnson out of a line-up, and the effect is bound to be felt.

At the last meeting of the Elks lodge, the lodge decided to sponsor the Seals team, under the name of the lodge, so hereafter the team will be known and referred to as the B. P. O. E.

Only two hits were made off Van Walk's delivery, both from the bat of Bollens. Van Walk struck out each man in the Y. M. C. A. lineup at least once, and fanned thirteen in all. With such hurling, it is doubtful if the Y. M. C. A., even in full strength, could have won the victory. Van Walk pitched a remarkable game, and deserves his full measure of credit. His teammates gave him almost errorless support, a dropped fly by Stallman being the only misplay on their side.

The B. P. O. E. showed great strength last night. The infield is composed of four good players, although they had little chance to show their goods with Van Walk setting down the opposition by the fan route.

The comforting part of the game for the Y. M. C. A. was a series of double plays, one each in the third, fourth and fifth innings. Bollens was the only player up to form. He has acted as relief hurler in four games, each game going to the slab under a great handicap, and each time turning out a brand of pitching that ordinarily would win. Besides his role as pitcher, he is batter de luxe of the team. His double and single last night were the only hits off Van Walk.

The Y. M. C. A. and the B. P. O. E. meet again Wednesday evening to play off the tie game of two weeks ago, when the teams battled to a weird 10-10 knot. The Y. M. C. A. team will be strengthened by the return of their cripples, and promise to make the game interesting.

Tonight the B. A. C. and the A. O. U. W. play, beginning at 6 o'clock. Fans are urged to turn out for the game.

EASTERN CLUBS HAVE THE EDGE IN WESTERN BOUTS

GIANTS MAKE BEST SHOWING— WIN 12 OUT OF 15 GAMES

PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS WIN
11 OUT OF 14 GAMES PLAYED

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, May 26.—Superiority of the Eastern teams was shown in the first of the intersectional major league games, which ended Sunday. With the exception of the two Boston clubs, the weak sisters of the east, all of the other eastern clubs split even or better.

After being kicked around at home by rival eastern clubs, the New York Giants got together on the road and managed to break even with seven victories, seven defeats and one tie.

With Ruth out and everything else going wrong the Yankees probably look upon their trip as a moral victory even if they are still in sixth position.

The New York Giants did the best of the eastern teams. They won 12 out of their 15 games, losing only one game to the Pirates, Cubs and Cardinals.

The Athletics did about as well on their trip through the west, winning 11 out of 14 games, losing two games to the White Sox and one to the Browns.

The champion Washington Senators won 9 out of 15 games. They are moving along well and will improve when the weather gets warmer.

The Brooklyn Robins made a successful defense of the home grounds in winning 11 out of 16 games. The Robins so far look like the only team that the Giants have to beat to win the pennant again, but the Pirates will come along later. They are getting on their feet now, having won 8 out of 14 games on their western trip.

With a lot of bustle and some great hitting, the Philadelphia Phillies continue to be the sensation of the early season in the National league. No one gave the Phils a tumble, but they'll probably get it before long, as the team has not the class to stay up in the first division.

The Detroit Tigers are still the big bust of the season. They lost nine out of their 15 games against the eastern clubs and they have won only one series all year.

The White Sox won 8 out of their 14 games against the eastern teams and are riding comfortably in third place.

Eddie Collins seems to have plugged up the infield hole at short and he is getting some very fine pitching. It looks like a club that is going some place.

COLLEGE STARS DRAW B. B. MANAGERS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, May 26.—Several major league ball clubs would be willing to take a $75,000 to $100,000 gamble on Owen Carroll, the sensational pitcher of the Holy Cross College 'varsity nine. Competent scouts, who have been watching him for two years, say that he is ready to step into the major leagues without a hitch in the minors and that he is a natural ball player. In addition to being a smart pitcher, he is a fine batter and a skilled fielder.

Carroll pledged himself two years ago to the Detroit Tigers and his name appeared upon the eligible list. Last winter he was dropped to the ineligible list and it was thought at the time that Ty Cobb just wanted to make room for another player until Carroll finished his studies. It was a surprise to baseball men to learn that Detroit had secured first crack at his services because he had told several other clubs that his vocation was the priesthood and that he didn't care to follow the career of a baseball player. If he did decide to play a few years, it was thought certain that he would be landed by the Philadelphia Athletics who have an inside track through Jack Barry, Holy Cross coach, and formerly one of Connie Mack's stars.

Apparently Carroll doesn't want to play with Detroit and he has asked Commissioner Landis to be relieved from the pledge that he signed with Detroit. He maintains that he was under age when he signed and that it was not valid. There is very little chance that the commissioner will see it that way, however, because a college boy, even though he were only sixteen or seventeen, ought to have intelligence enough to know what he was doing.

Carroll's brilliant work has done much to place Holy Cross in the limelight, although for years it has had the reputation of developing more baseball players than any other institution in the country.

Baseball supports itself and makes money at Holy Cross. There are no figures available, but it is thought that Holy Cross is the only college in the country where baseball is a real money maker.

Records show that the 'varsity nine played before 65,000 last season at Worcester and the team is such a drawing card that the Worcester team in the Eastern League arranges its schedule so that it will be on the road when Holy Cross plays at home. Last year on a holiday date the 'varsity nine and the professional team played at home. Ten thousand spectators saw the college game and 500 looked at the league game.

AGED BICYCLES USED IN RACES

(By United Press)

St. Paul, May 26.—In all parts of the state boys and girls are dusting off aged bicycles in preparation for the Norse-American Centennial games which will be staged at the University stadium June 8 and 9.

A ten mile bike race will be one of the features of the tournament, with John S. Johnson, holder of several world records, competing. Although Johnson will not attempt any records because of his advanced age, indications are he will push the younger racers hard.

Arnold Oss, former Gopher football guard, is directing the games. He expects to have more than 100 high schools and colleges of the northwest represented at the two day meet.

Train Wreck Results in Calling Off Game Between Reds, Cards

Cincinnati, May 26.—A Pennsylvania railroad freight wreck near Harrisburg, Pa., resulted in the St. Louis Cardinals reaching Cincinnati too late yesterday afternoon to play their scheduled game with the Reds, the Cincinnati club announced. Railroad officials offered to bring the Cardinals here from Columbus via the Big Four in time for a game to be started about 4:30 p. m., but the Red management preferred to call off the game as the weather really was too cold for baseball. None of the Cardinals was hurt in the wreck, according to word received here.

Be Beautiful at Thirty

"If you're clever, you'll be better looking at thirty than you have ever been before," writes Hazel Rawson Cades in the Woman's Home Companion. "You'll be better dressed, better poised. It's only a question of taking the trouble, and of accustoming yourself to thinking in terms of your own age. It is, I'll admit, more work to be charming at thirty than at eighteen. But it's curious that many women, born to a mediocrity which persisted through their youth, have at thirty found their charm. Because they've seen then the possibilities of their age, and realized that the charm of maturity depends not so much on your natural endowments as on the grooming, grace and mental qualities that you are willing to work for."

Signals

The Martins were preparing to make an evening call. Said Mr. Martin: "I can't stand too long an evening with those Bergers. We're coming home at ten o'clock if I have to develop a headache to do so."

All went well until about 9:30, when four-year-old Juanita Martin became somewhat bored with the entertainment the Bergers were offering her. Climbing up into her father's lap and putting an arm around his neck, she commanded, in a stage whisper: "Start your headache, daddy, start your headache!"—Kansas City Star.

That Made Difference

Mollie had fussed, but confessed the fault readily—in fact, as though she were rather proud of the accomplishment. Mollie was a modern child.

"You know, it was very wrong of you to tell me that lie," granny told her. "Your conscience must be troubling you."

"Oh, no, it isn't, granny," said Mollie, promptly. "She believed it."

VAN WALK LAST NIGHT HURLED A MASTERLY GAME

Y NINE CLAIMS TO BE A CRIPPLE, BEING MINUS FIVE REGULARS

Van Walk hurled masterly ball against the Y. M. C. A. last night, and won a decisive victory for the B. P. O. E., formerly the Seals. The score was 12-2, and just about indicates the difference in playing between the teams. The Y. M. C. A. went into the game crippled by the loss of three infielders and two outfielders. Take Peterson, Thorildson, Anderson, Ringer and Johnson out of a line-up, and the effect is bound to be felt.

At the last meeting of the Elks lodge, the lodge decided to sponsor the Seals team, under the name of the lodge, so hereafter the team will be known and referred to as the B. P. O. E.

Only two hits were made off Van Walk's delivery, both from the bat of Bollens. Van Walk struck out each man in the Y. M. C. A. lineup at least once, and fanned thirteen in all. With such hurling, it is doubtful if the Y. M. C. A., even in full strength, could have won the victory. Van Walk pitched a remarkable game, and deserves his full measure of credit. GOLF STARS PREPARE FOR NATIONAL OPEN

Chicago, May 26.—Practically all of the 137 entrants in the western qualifying round of the national open tournament, to begin Wednesday, were on the course today for practice. Few of the visiting players have ever played the Onwentsia course, where the tournament will be held.

Strictly a Ford schedule is used in making our charges for repair work. You can charge it at Lively's.

GIANTS MAKE BEST SHOWING— WIN 12 OUT OF 15 GAMES

PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS WIN 11 OUT OF 14 GAMES PLAYED

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, May 26.—Superiority of the Eastern teams was shown in the first of the inter-sectional major league games, which ended Sunday. With the exception of the two Boston clubs, the weak sisters of the east, all of the other eastern clubs split even or better.

After being kicked around at home by rival eastern clubs, the New Yorkers got together on the road and managed to break even with seven victories, seven defeats and one tie.

With Ruth out and everything else going wrong the Yankees probably look upon their trip as a moral victory even if they are still in sixth position.

The New York Giants did the best of the eastern teams. They won 12 out of their 15 games, losing only one game to the Pirates, Cubs and Cardinals.

The Athletics did about as well on their trip through the west, winning 11 out of 14 games, losing two games to the White Sox and one to the Browns.

The champion Washington Senators won 9 out of 15 games. They are moving along well and will improve when the weather gets warmer.

The Brooklyn Robins made a successful defense of the home grounds in winning 11 out of 16 games. The Robins so far look like the only team that the Giants have to beat to win the pennant again, but the Pirates will come along later. They are getting on their feet now, having won 8 out of 14 games on their western trip.

With a lot of bustle and some great hitting, the Philadelphia Phillies continue to be the sensation of the early season in the National league. No one gave the Phils a tumble, but they'll probably get it before long, as the team has not the class to stay up in the first division.

The Detroit Tigers are still the big bust of the season. They lost nine out of their 15 games against the eastern clubs and they have won only one series all year.

The White Sox won 8 out of their 14 games against the eastern teams and are riding comfortably in third place.

Eddie Collins seems to have plugged up the infield hole at short and he is getting some very fine pitching. It looks like a club that is going some place.

For Creaky Joints

Just rub on Joint-Ease if you want to know what real joint comfort is. It's for stiff, swollen, or pain-tortured joints whether caused by rheumatism or not.

A few seconds' rubbing and it soaks right in through skin and flesh right down to ligament and bone. It oils up and limbers up the joints, subdues the inflammation and reduces the swelling. Joint-Ease is the one great remedy for all joint troubles and other live druggists are dispensing it daily—a tube for 60 cents.

Always remember, when Joint-Ease gets in joint agony gets out—quick.
